Australia Vote Returns Labor

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP)—The Labor government seemed assured of remaining in office as early counting in Saturday's general election indicated it would hold a minimum of 37 and probably several more seats in the 75-seat house of representatives. Reuters news agency and Sunday newspapers already had conceded return of the Chifley administration.

In a Melbourne dispatch, Reuters said Labor seemed likely to win at least 37 seats and the two major opposition parties 22, while "most of the doubtful states appear to be going Labor."

The government already holding 17 non-contested seats in the senate, also was assured of control of the 36-seat upper house.

First results on a constitutional referendum were adverse to the government's demand for wider federal powers.

The government was well ahead of the Liberals and Country party in the eastern states where the first trend was apparent in the 62 divisions in that area.

Voting was close and results in doubt in nine divisions, six of which were held by Labor at parliament's dissolution, Aug. 9, and three by the opposition parties.

The government had held a commanding total of 49 seats in the last lower house, in which 38 are necessary to control.

Prime Minister Chifley and all his ministers had comfortable personal margins in early returns.

Robert G. Menzies, leader of the Liberal party, was well ahead in his constituency of Kooyong, Victoria.

Three cabinet members seemed assured of re-election by early returns: Arthur W. Calwell (immigration), J. J. Dedman (post-war reconstruction), A. S. Drakeford (air) and E. J. Holloway (labor).

A fifth cabinet minister, Herbert V. Evatt (foreign affairs) seemed certain of return in Barton, New South Wales.

Prime Minister Chifley seemed certain of re-election in Macquarie, N.S.W.

Climaxing a quiet campaign in which the main issues were domestic—social legislation and rates—were the chief concerns during electioneering — Australians began voting at 8:00 a.m. Polls closed hour was 8:00 p.m. with counting to continue for four hours and resume at 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

Charges A. F. U. Executive Hid Strike Truth From Members

By J. V. O'Neill

CALGARY— Under the growing pinch of limited pocketbooks due to heavy personal financial losses through spoilage of their withheld perishable farm products, strikers who threw in their weight at the beginning of the Alberta Farmers' Union central strike committee Sept. 6 are showing signs of abandoning the hazy and indefinite objectives of the union's strike "brain-trusters."

Latest word of opposition to the A.F.U.'s 22-day-old cudgel-poised demand to the federal government to accede to the union's fact-finding board pattern comes from a member prominent in A.F.U. activities for the past six years, Henry Kelley of Millet.

"I am an Alberta Farmers' Union member but I'm 100 percent against this strike. I blame the A.F.U. executive and officials for hiding the truth from its 20,000 members thus resulting in a strike of perhaps 19,000 members—not 20,000," Mr. Kelley charged in a written statement.

Oppose Strike Action

He said that the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture in a joint board meeting with the A.F.U., has made it clear they would not consider proposed amalgamation with the A.F.U. if it insisted on including the strike action clause in the framework of a joint constitution for the three farm bodies.

"I maintain it was the duty of the A.F.U officials to pass this news on to all the locals of the A.F.U. for their consideration. This was not done and the members were left in the dark. Then strike action was proposed with by the executive," Kelley stated.

He charged that the A.F.U. membership had been "sold down the river" by its own executive.

He said it was his opinion that if all locals had had the opportunity of studying the refusal of joint action by the A.F.A. and U.F.A., the A.F.U. memberships would not have voted for strike action.

Double 75% Majority

He doubted that the executive had received the constitutionally required 75 percent majority of its membership in calling the strike, and even if it had it would comprise only 15,000 rather than the 20,000 and more claimed by the strike committee.

He said that in his A.F.U. local—Clover Lawn No. 258— there were 83 members, only 17 of whom voted for the strike.

"I have been a member for six years and have done considerable organizing as well as serving as local president, district subdirector and director of locals and president of District 7 locals, Wetaskiwin, which comprises 75 locals with a membership of 2,020," Kelley explained.

On the question of fact-finding boards Mr. Kelley expressed a new slant on the A.F.U., farm-producer tie-up.

"I maintain that the executive of the A.F.U., has hidden the truth from its members to such an extent that we should have a fact-finding board to look into their negligence and to tell the members the truth, Mr. Kelley commented.

Mrs. Goering Upset After Visiting Jail

NUERNBERG, (AP)—Mrs. Hermann Goering, one-time queen of the Nazi social set, and her small daughter Edda emerged in tears Saturday from the Nuernberg prison, where her husband and 20 other Hitler disciples await a verdict on war crimes charges.

Mrs. Goering, led by two other women, was weeping uncontrollably after having visited her husband.

It could not be learned immediately what had cracked the composure of Mrs. Goering, who had remained calm and unruffled throughout the long trial.

Asks Liquor Profit Pay Milk Subsidy

REGINA, (CP)— Nelson Clarke, provincial leader of the Labor-Progressive party Friday suggested that the Saskatchewan government use part of its $6,000,000 return from liquor taxes to continue the subsidy on milk.

The federal subsidy of 55 cents per hundred pounds of fluid milk will be removed Sept. 30 when retail prices will go up.

(Alberta's liquor profits in the last fiscal year exceeded $8,000,000.)

Cafe Milk Price To Be Unchanged

Price of milk sold to restaurants, along with that to household consumers, will increase Tuesday but whether this increase to the restaurants eventually will be passed along to the consumer was not known Saturday.

The board of public utilities which has authorized the retail increase has no control over the price of milk in a restaurant. This control comes under the administration of the prices board and Saturday no applications for an increase had been received.

The half-pint sizes of milk served in restaurants will cost the proprietor one-half cent more starting Tuesday but only with prices board authorization could this half-cent increase be passed on to the customer.

Prices board officials here said that two years ago restaurants were allowed to make an additional charge of six cents for milk served with meals and applications for a further increase would not be considered unless "the over-all picture of any business warranted an increase."

In the meantime , there at least won't be any immediate increase in the price of the bottled article of milk purchased with a restaurant meal," a milkshake or the like from which milk is sold in eating establishments.

Raps Commission In Spy Inquiry

TORONTO, (CP)—Establishment of a royal commission to investigate charges of espionage was "strongly protested" Friday by the Canadian Congress of Labor in a resolution adopted unanimously at its convention.

The resolution:

"While this congress has no sympathy with, nor desires to protect, any persons guilty of treason while within the confines of Canada and its Canadian citizens, become engaged in any subversive or espionage activities, we nevertheless strongly protest against the methods employed by the dominion government in setting up a commission in the recent espionage charges and the holding of persons incommunicado without proper trial or right of defence by reversing the established principle of the innocence of the accused until guilt is proven, in the traditional practice of British justice."

Provincial Subsidy On Milk Is Asked

VANCOUVER, (CP) — The B.C. government will be asked to pay producers a subsidy and to hold retail milk prices at present levels.

Consumer and labor organizations have formed an "emergency committee on milk," and will ask Mayor Cornett to make representations to the provincial government.

Plane "Delivered" to Navy in Daring Diamond Park Landing

Until Friday afternoon no airplane ever had landed on old Diamond Park baseball field between McDougall hill. But that's what happened Friday when a young pilot undertook to deliver a Swordfish plane to H.M.C.S. Nonsuch navy headquarters. The ball field was the closest delivery point so he flopped the plane over power lines on to the field while Edmontonians, unaware of the plan, watched what some believed was a crashing plane. Lieut. M. E. Wasteneys piloted the machine and his navigator, Lieut. P. Windover, and Lieut.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike, officer commanding H. M.C.S. Nonsuch, rode the rear cockpit during the procedure. Top picture, above, shows the plane skimming over the field on one of its three "dummy runs" made before the successful landing on the fourth approach. The Macdonald is shown in the background as the plane flies well below the hill level. Bottom picture shows the plane on the parade square of the naval barracks with, left to right, Pilot Wasteneys, Navigator Windover, Lieut. T. A. Country, who flagged the plane in from the ground, and Lieut.-Cmdr. Pike.

Soviet Transfers Zarubin to U. K.

LONDON, (CP)—The Moscow radio announced Friday that Georgi Zarubin had been appointed Soviet ambassador to Great Britain. He was ambassador to Canada during the period when the Canadian government charges that a Moscow-directed spy ring was operating in the dominion.

Zarubin succeeds Feodor Gusev, who will return to Moscow for a higher post in the foreign ministry.

One of nine children, the 46-year-old Zarubin began working at the age of 13 and volunteered in the Soviet army five years later. He entered the foreign ministry in 1940 after heading the Soviet delegation at the New York world's fair.

He arrived in Ottawa to succeed Gusev in that post.

Zarubin was on a visit to Russia from his post as ambassador to Ottawa when the Canadian government announced last Feb. 15 it had struck against a Soviet espionage ring whose operations were officially declared traced to the Soviet embassy. He did not return to Canada.

The final report of the royal commission on espionage said documents and evidence presented showed the Soviet ambassador had "no part" in espionage activities carried on from the embassy.

Dr. H. S. Soby, coroner of High River, said an inquest will be held in Okotoks Monday.

U.K. to Melt Silver Coins to Pay U.S. Debt; Also for Industrial Use

By Frank Swanson

LONDON—Britain's decision to withdraw all silver coinage and to replace it with a new copper nickel alloy type of coinage to eliminate the necessity of this country purchasing silver from North American sources for years to come.

It is estimated that by extracting millions of ounces of silver at present locked away in coins—some estimates place at 250,000,000 ounces the amount of silver that will be recovered—the Bank of England will be able to provide the needs of industry for silver without the loss of a single penny of foreign exchange for several years.

In addition, the bank will be able to put away some of the recovered silver with which to begin repayment of the tremendous amounts which Britain, along with India, the Netherlands and other countries, borrowed from the United States under lease-lend terms during the war years.

In all, 411,000,000 ounces are due to be repaid to the United States treasury by debtor countries. It is calculated that demonetization of British and Indian currencies—if all the silver were to be used for this purpose—would provide the whole of this amount.

25 Feared Dead In Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, (Reuters) — Twenty-five persons were feared to have been killed in a Dakota airliner of Panair do Brasil believed to have crashed Friday night.

The airliner, carrying 21 passengers and four crew members, was seen to fall in flames on a mountainside in the state of Minas Geraes, according to an unconfirmed report. It has been overdue more than 24 hours.

McNaughton Head Of Atomic Board

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister King Friday night announced the appointment of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as president and of three other Canadians as members of the Atomic Energy Control board established under the Atomic Energy Control act passed at the last session of parliament.

Gen. McNaughton, who also is Canada's representative on the permanent Canada-United States joint defence board and a former commander of the 1st Canadian Army, will serve for a three-year term.

Mr. King also announced that George C. Bateman, former deputy Canadian member of the Combined Production and Resources board, had been appointed member of the atomic board for a three-year term and Dr. Paul E. Gagnon, director of the Graduate school at Laval university, Quebec, and V.W.T. Scully, deputy reconstruction minister, as members for two-year terms.

The terms of the order-in-council making the appointments also provide that Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the National Research council, will also be an ex-officio member "in his capacity as president of the honorary advisory council for scientific and industrial research."

WANT A-BOMB OUTLAWED

TORONTO, (CP)— The Canadian Congress of Labor Friday adopted a resolution demanding the outlawing of atomic and A-bomb as a weapon of war and have all existing stores of atomic bombs destroyed immediately.

When the air arm of the Royal Canadian ? ivy gets an order to "deliver the goods" the job is done in spectacular fashion. This was demonstrated in Edmonton Friday in one of the weirdest and most daring aircraft landings ever seen in the city.

The plane "sat down" on the old Diamond Park baseball field. It was skidded in after three "dummy runs" over the field in such a thrilling display that sensors of the crash buzzed about downtown Edmonton for some time after the landing.

All this centred around orders to the naval air arm to deliver to H.M.C.S. Nonsuch on Donald Ross flats one bi-winged Swordfish, a plane used in the Second Great War to carry torpedoes off the flight decks of aircraft carriers. The Swordfish had reached the municipal airport but still remained some distance from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch.

Pilots in the naval air arm consider their job is flying airplanes, not loading them on trucks to be hauled through city streets. So one pilot, Lieut. M. E. "Mike" Wasteneys and his navigator left the two blocks of its destination. Transport board officials and police practically wiped their hands of the whole business but Mike insisted it could be done by air.

Old Diamond Park is not quite as long as a smooth carrier flight deck. And it also is cluttered with power lines on all sides and one baseball backstop at the north end of the field. But Pilot Wasteneys said he could miss them all and bring the "kite" in safely.

Navy men from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch were grouped around the field at 2:30 p.m. Friday. So were city police traffic men and the city fire department had a crash wagon on hand. They all served merely as spectators when Wasteneys reached the field shortly before 2:45 p.m. Flying well below the level of McDougall hill he made three "feeler" flights over the field, judging his longest run into the deck. On his fourth run he approached from the southwest corner, cleared power lines by just a few feet and hit the field about two-thirds of its length from the north end.

Quick application of brakes didn't do much to stop the machine which touched down at about 65 miles an hour. Wet grass failed to hold the machine which ran right up to the end of the baseball park. McDougall hill before swinging to the right and coming to a halt. In the swift run across the field the wire backstop was missed by several feet by the pilot.

While all this was going on, the plane's navigator, Lieut. W. R. Windover, Edmonton, was parked in the rear cockpit along with Lieut.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike R.C.N. (R), officer commanding H.M.C.S. Nonsuch. Both admitted the wires came close but they were "too interested in what was going on to be scared."

The machines, former operational planes from eastern Canada, were delivered to naval barracks for future instructional purposes. A naval air arm group will be formed here and the Swordfish will be used for study by recruits.

113 Cattle Scattered; One Man Is Injured

In a wild melee reminiscent of scenes from a western movie, one man was injured, 30 farmer-pickets were arrested and 113 cattle were scattered over the prairies in a fracas Friday at Beaver Crossing, 170 miles northwest of Edmonton. R.C.M.P. said 30 to 40 more men are under investigation and further arrests may be made.

The wild west show started when 200 pickets of the Alberta Farmers' Union tried to stop 12 cowboys and a cattle buyer, Lloyd Lybbert, from herding the cattle through the picket lines to the Beaver Crossing stockyards.

Lybbert suffered a leg fracture when his horse fell and then rolled on him in the scramble that occurred after rocks and stones were heaved and the frightened cattle stampeded. He was taken to Bonnyville hospital.

This new outburst of violence in the 22-day-old farm strike came as the central strike committee in Edmonton was meeting behind closed doors to consider Agriculture Minister Gardiner's proposal that farmers present their views to the Agricultural Prices Support board.

Eleven of the 30 men arrested on charges of intimidation and released on $100 bail each in connection with the melee were: Walter S. Dilcox, Sigmund Grimstad, Paul Petersen and Robert Nelson, all of Cold Lake; S. I. Hamre, Jack Wagner and Arthur Heigh, all of Ardmore; James Blair, Grande Centre; William Kerr, Rat Lake; Lawrence Smith and Roy Brown, Cherry Grove. Bail was allowed by B. J. Dessureau, justice of the peace. They will appear in magistrate's court next Thursday. The names of the other men arrested were not reported here immediately.

Seven other arrests were made at Rochfort Bridge, 73 miles west of Edmonton, in connection with the strike. Four of the arrested were youths, and the other three were John Ryll and Joseph and George Grove. Bail was allowed by B. J.

De Havilland Dies In Mid-Air Blast

ALL-HALLOWS-ON-THE-SEA, England, (CP)—Capt. Geoffrey de Havilland, daredevil test pilot and scion of a famous British aviation family, was presumed killed at dusk Friday night in the explosion, 10,000 feet in the air, of a radical new tailless jet plane he had hoped to fly to a world's speed record.

The R.A.F. announced officially finding of the wreckage of the experimental plane spread over a mile of deserted sea marsh in the Thames estuary.

Lord Winster, minister of civil aviation, paid Britain's tribute to the "gallant" 37-year-old flier who had tested every new De Havilland plane during the last nine years.

The plane that carried Capt. De Havilland to his death was a 3,500-horsepower turbo jet DH-108 Swallow in which he was making a final test before undertaking an attempt to break the world's plane speed record of 616 miles an hour established last August by a gloster twin jet meteor.

U.S., Soviet Clash Over Danube Ships

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)— An American proposal for restoring traffic on the Danube river was countered in the United Nations economic and social council Friday by a Russian claim that the United States was guilty of interference with the economy of the Danube countries.

John Winant, United States delegate, said the U.S. is ready to call a conference between Russia, the United States and Danubian states on or before Nov. 1, in attempt a working agreement on Danube river traffic.

He said the United States wanted to restore to Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia the ships making up the river fleets of the two countries, but were holding them as an "act of American property seized or nationalized and for which no compensation arrangements had yet been made."

The proposal for a conference was met by a declaration from Nikolai Feonov, Russian delegate, that the United States was using "the language of an ultimatum presented with a revolver."

"It is not fitting for the United States, which so loudly claims to be the champion of democracy to exploit the difficulties of other countries," Mr. Feonov said.

It was clear he added, that the United States intended to hold the Danube fleet as insurance to compel the people to serve the interests of the United States.

The discussion ended without any decision being reached.

3 Services Join C.O.T.C. Scheme

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA. — All three of Canada's armed services are showing unprecedented interest in the nation's young university men.

It has been learned that beginning this year, all major Canadian universities will have officer training units—only five in the army but for the Royal Canadian Navy and Royal Canadian Air Force.

Details of the radically revised and re-established C.O.T.C. plan, national standards, all will be appointed second lieutenants, will receive reserve officers' pay will work with the active army for as much as four months each year, and on graduation will receive the King's commission as lieutenants.

It is to be expected that the navy and air force units will be as rigid and thoroughly-planned as is the army's C.O.T.C.

Bolivian Mob Hangs Three Men After President Escapes Death

LA PAZ, Bolivia, (AP)—A mob estimated at 80,000 persons, infuriated by the attempted assassination of President Tomas Monje Gutierrez, hanged three men from downtown lamp posts Friday—the would be assasin and two former police chiefs they had stormed the city jail to seize.

Luis Gibilira Bustamente, a former army officer, was hanged by the crowd soon after he marched to the president's office, clubbed a presidential aide with the butt of a pistol, and announced "I am going to be president."

Before he could shoot Monje Gutierrez, he was seized by a police detachment, but the mob swept him away from the officers and hanged him.

The same crowd then marched to the central jail, where they smashed their way into the cell blocks and seized Maj. Jose Escobar and Maj. Jorge Eguino, La Paz police chiefs during the regime of President Gualberto Villarroel, which was overthrown last July 21 by a revolution in which more than 1,000 persons were killed and 2,000 injured.

Eguino was strung up on a lamp post, but the rope broke and two pistol bullets ended his life. His body was then hanged.

Negotiations Are Continuing For Steel Strike Settlement

By John Bird

OTTAWA — With all Canada lined up on the bank expectantly watching, river drivers are prying at the key log in the nation's industrial log jam—the steel strike. Once that moves, Canada's whole industrial drive can move ahead.

That is the feeling in Ottawa, while negotiations in the steel strike proceed in Montreal, Toronto and Elsewhere.

Early Saturday, Labor Minister Mitchell was en route to Ottawa by car from Montreal, but officials emphasized the importance of the fact that F. B. Kilbourne, steel controller, was taking a leading part in the negotiations. For some time, labor department officials have insisted that the stage had been reached when the parties themselves, the companies and the unions, should iron out the disputes.

It is hardly conceivable that Mr. Kilbourne should negotiate new terms without the knowledge of the steel managements. Furthermore, if agreement were reached between the controller and the strikers, with government acquiescence the controller would be left in the position of having to run the steel plants, if the companies refused to accept the proposed terms. Such an event is unlikely, at the least.

Most interesting point is whether flat increases across the board will be agreed upon—something like 10 cents an hour retroactive to April 1 with three cents additional hourly increase when work is resumed. One of the sharpest points in the union's refusal of the government's recent offer of increases from 11 to 12½ cents was the objection to cutting the customary differentiation in pay for difference in skills.

R.C.M.P. Receives Jewelry in Mail

VANCOUVER, (CP)—A plain white paper parcel, received in the mail at R.C.M.P. headquarters here contained diamond-studded wrist watches and 17 necklaces valued at more than $10,000.

The jewelry is believed part of a $100,000 robbery from a Tacoma, Wash., store some weeks ago, and possibly a series of burglaries in Hollywood, police said.

Bevin Supports 'No War' Belief

LONDON, (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said Friday night he agreed with Premier Stalin that no "further war is likely at present."

"We have recently had a statement from Russia that they do not anticipate a further war is likely at present," Mr. Bevin said in a speech. "I do not think so either and I do not know anybody who is asking for war."

Mr. Bevin added, however, that there is one kind of war that must stop if we are to get peace—that is the war of nerves that has left some of the nations countries in a state of disturbance."

The foreign secretary, who returned Thursday from the Paris peace conference, declared pointedly that "the acid test is 'not in speeches made by statesmen, but it is the approach in the conference room to the actual problems we are discussing."

Pittsburgh Trams Are Halted Again

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Operators of Pittsburgh railways was halted for the second time within 48 hours as a result of picketing by members of a striking power union.

Headquarters of the A.F.L. Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes said efforts to operate the lines, which had maintained partial service through the early hours of the night, were abandoned after pickets crowded all 12 car barns of the Pittsburgh Railways company.

The strike has caused at least $10,000,000 loss to business, industry and payrolls.

San Antonio faced a major cleanup and rehabilitation problem.

Damage to buildings, streets, household furnishings and store stocks in San Antonio was variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. Water poured into the basements of many downtown business buildings.

Hot Air Furnaces Output to Cease

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, vice-president of the Central Mortgage and Housing corporation, said Friday that production of hot air furnaces would cease in Canada after June because of the strike of steelworkers at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Hamilton and Sydney, N.S.

It would be about 10 weeks after settlement of the strike before production of heating equipment could be resumed, he added. Lack of materials, resulting from the strike, also would mean that 25,000 to 30,000 of the estimated 60,000 housing projects expected to be completed this year would not be finished.

Northern Seed Group Reports Record Business of $526,000

GRANDE PRAIRIE—More than four times the volume of business as compared with 1945 is reported by the Peace River Seed Growers' association for 1946. Total transactions amounted to $526,000 as compared with $120,000 a year ago. The figures were given at a recent meeting of the association.

Directors' report was presented by K. Anderson, president. Manager R. S. MacMillan reported the great-ly increased volume of business had been handled with no increase in facilities.

Seed cleaning plant in operation here for the past few years now is claimed inadequate due to the great increase in business and the potential growth of forage crops in the district.

It was decided to expand the building and equipment consider-ably as soon as materials can be obtained. Seed from the district is being shipped all over the world and is reported in great demand.

There are 300 members of the association. Uri Powell and Howe Harris were elected new directors.

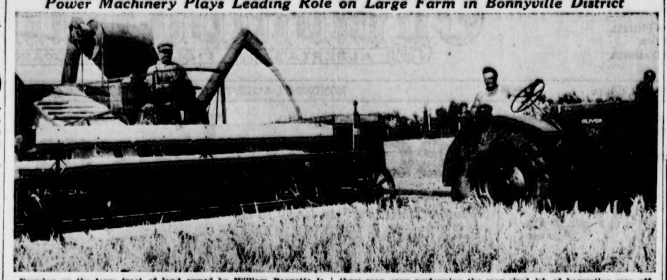

Building Permits Total $210,000 in North Town

GRANDE PRAIRIE — Building permits for the year to date total $210,000, double the amount for the same months last year.

Total nmmber of permits issued for new buildings, additions and alterations amounted to 77. Some of the largest of these included the new hotel which is not completed due to the lack of cement. Many more buildings would be under construction if cement were avail-able.

So many alterations and new buildings of superior construction have been made on Richmond ave., the main business street, that it has now the appearance of a new street. These buildings followed the laying of cement sidewalks and bituminous paving last summer.

Power Machinery Plays Leading Role on Large Farm in Bonnyville District

Farming on the large tract of land owned by William Paquette is carried out on a big scale as shown in this picture. Mr. Paquette is pictured on the combine during harvesting of a field of barley. Driv-ing the tractor is his son, Lester. A second son, Mirro, completes the three-man crew performing the man-sized job of harvesting crop off 400 seeded acres. Mr. Paquette is a well-known farmer of the district having been in the Bonnyville area for 37 years. Besides large acreage there are several large buildings including a $10,000 barn which may accommodate 900 pigs.

Pioneer District Farmer Is Doing Big Job on Land

BONNYVILLE— Power machin-ery plays a leading role on the well-managed and heavy-producing farm of William Paquette, two miles west of Bonnyville.

Mr. Paquette recently completed threshing of 400 acres of heavy-yielding wheat and barley and he states his current wheat crop the best in 20 years. He completed the job, along with his two sons, within a few days.

Stooks, a rapidly disappearing characteristic of larger western farms, are no longer necessary as this farmer's latest model combine and "swatter" machines march through the fields. In one opera-tion they flail the grain and hurl it into grinders from which it emerges threshed all ready for the bins.

Gain is Reported

Work, which in the other years had required weeks of toil by crews of 12 and 15 men, was all completed within a few days this fall by Mr. Paquette and his two-men crew, sons Lester and Mirro. With this new system of harvesting, this farmer estimates that his overall gain on threshing expenses aver-ages 14 cents to the bushel.

Mr. Paquette has farmed here for 37 years. He also is very enthusi-astic over the next-year prospects of 200 acres of red clover seeded in an area used for wheat this year and already showing nicely amidst the recently cut wheat stubble.

A pioneer farmer of this com-munity, Mr. Paquette came here from Rimouski, Que., and estab-lished his farm where it is today, on the main highway, two miles west of this village.

An innovator, he brought the first combine to this district five years ago and obtained one of the first rubber-tired tractors in north-ern Alberta, some 14 years ago.

$10,000 Piggery

Especially noteworthy among the buildings of this farm is the $10,000 piggery, which is one of the most up-to-date in the province. It is about 150 feet long and 50 feet wide and can hold as many as 900 pigs.

The residence and other main buildings, are all well lighted and have running water facilities throughout. Attractively painted and fronted by lovely trees, they offer a pleasant perspective to the passer-by.

Emphasize Hazard Of Forest Fires

GRANDE PRAIRIE—The Al-berta Forest Service, in co-opera-tion with the Canadian Forestry association, is holding a series of motion pictures on forest fire pre-vention and other forestry subjects throughout the district.

The equipment is carried in a special forest protection car with two young operators.

Special showings are made to school children as well as to adults. The wild animal pictures are partic-ularly fine and these with the comedies, appeal to the children. The technicolor forest pictures are also very good.

Besides Grande Priarie, the films have been shown at Crooked Creek, DeBolt and will be shown at many other northern points.

GRANDE PRAIRIE — The tele-phone system here has been chang-ed from the magnetic to the com-mon battery system. The new phones, small, black and compact, now have replaced the old wooden wall phones which disfigured so many homes.

Switchboard change-over was completed while the phones were still being changed. Central is contacted simply by removing the cradle receivers from the hook. The phones are constructed for the dial system if the number of subscribers becomes sufficiently large, thus keeping pace with the future growth of the town.

Greece Quits Epirus Claim; Stage Set for Parley's End

PARIS, (AP)—The stage was set Friday for a quick finish to the Paris peace conference, with an agreement reached to limit further speechmaking and one troublesome issue wiped off the agenda by Greek withdrawal of claims for northern Epirus.

"For the first time," State Secretary Byrnes told reporters, "I see a possibility of winding up the peace conference."

The delegates have two deadlines to meet. By Oct. 5, all commissions are scheduled to present their reports on the drafts of peace treaties to the full 21-power plenary session, which, in turn, is slated to finish its work by Oct. 15. The conference has been in session since July 29.

After that, the council of foreign ministers of the Big Four will take the conference's amendments and proposals and try to formulate the final treaties for Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Italy and Romania.

Conference commissions made progress Friday. The principle of at least 75 percent compensation for Allied properties in defeated nations, already adopted for Italy, was virtually established for the other four treaties by the Balkan-Finnish economic commission. The United States was defeated, 9-4, in a motion for 25 percent compensation for business interests and property damaged or destroyed during the war. The Slavic bloc constituted the principal opposition. The United States abstained in the vote, which came during a discussion of the Rumanian treaty.

At in the Italian economic commission, Britain and Greece reserved the right to ask the plenary session for full compensation, a principle which was defeated in both commissions by a tie vote, with the United States, Russia and the Slav states on one side and Britain, the British Empire and Greece on the other. France and India abstained.

The military commission adopted a Greek amendment prohibiting Bulgaria from owning or operating motor torpedo boats from Black sea ports. The Slav states opposed the amendment.

U. K. to Tighten Company Control

LONDON, (CP)—A board of trade spokesman announced Friday night the government plans to institute sweeping changes that would bring company control and financial structure under a scrutiny similar to that exercised in the United States by the securities and exchange commission.

The spokesman said recommendations of a committee appointed last autumn shortly after the Labor government came to power are concerned with:

Control over the naming of companies where the name is calculated to mislead the public; disclosure of share ownership and nominee holdings (a nominee holds shares on behalf of a third party whose name is not disclosed); disclosure of the transfer of shares; information to be disclosed in prospectuses; publication of accounts.

Penalties for false information; organization of private companies; remuneration of directors; investigation of company officers; and disclosure of fuller information by holding companies regarding subsidiary companies.

Maj.-Gen. T. B. Larkin, the quartermaster general, announced the army's priority demand this week for 15,000,900 pounds weekly has been scaled down to 12,000,000 pounds.

Hollywood Unions In Fierce Fight

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)— Fierce fighting broke out late Friday at the gates of Metro-Goldyn-Mayer studio as workers entering the lot for the late shift attempted to run a mass of line of pickets.

Nearly 200 persons engaged in the melee, which lasted nearly a half-hour.

Pickets smashed windows of automobiles, yanked open car hoods and jerked out ignition wires, and tried unsuccessfully to over-turn six of 15 cars running the line.

One picket was hurled to the top of a car and disappeared inside studio gates. Another was knocked down by a car, and removed to a hospital.

It was the most serious clash of a day marked by rock-throwing and other violence—with 23 pickets arrested by nightfall—as the CIO member conference of studio unions conducted the second day of what it calls a lockout, but what producers label a strike.

The C.S.U. and another A.F.L. group, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, are at odds for the third time in 18 months over whose carpenters shall build film sets.

M. D. 13 Is Largest Military Command

Through a recent revision of military boundaries by the department of national defence Military District 13 has become the largest administrative command in the dominion, it was announced Saturday.

Under the new authorization M.D. 13 includes the northeast portion of British Columbia, Yukon, all of North West Territories and Alberta. For purposes of administration the Yukon and the portion of B.C. newly added to the command includes the line of the north-west highway system.

The 1,772,000 square miles now being administered by M.D. 13 is over one-third of the total area of Canada.

Raps 'Machinery' Used in Strike

TORONTO, (CP)— The Canadian Congress of Labor convention Friday night adopted an emergency resolution "deploring resurrection of antiquated legal machinery to be used against three members of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) to intimidate the labor movement" and asking Ontario Attorney-General Blackwell to discontinue "misuse of such sections of the Criminal Code."

The three union members, George Burt, Tom Maclean and Tom Rooney, are charged with besetting and watching in connection with the Chrysler strike at Windsor.

30 Are Arrested In Strike Melee

Busche. Ryll was fined $10 and costs and the Busche brothers, $20 and costs.

Besides receiving a lecture from the magistrate the four boys were placed on suspended sentence.

According to reports, the 300 pickets took up a strategic position on the north approach to the Beaver Crossing bridge, about four miles from town. When Lybbert and the cowboys attempted to drive the 113 cattle through the picket line, the melee started.

The cattle stampeded, Lybbert's horse became frightened and fell, rocks were heaved and then six cars, driven by farmers on Saturday, stepped in and managed to stop the fight. The cattle, however, were scattered over the prairies and it took the cowboys most of the night and Saturday morning to round them all up.

It was announced in Regina that heads of the United Farmers of Canada would meet Monday to discuss the proposals by the agriculture ministers.

A report from Grande Prairie, where three butcher shops have had no meat since the end of the first week of the strike, said three carloads of meat had reached the town from Edmonton. Proprietors of the meat markets met this week with the strike committee to ask that committee to withdraw its objection against the slaughtering of cattle at the local abattoir. The strikers refused to accede to this request and one butcher said he was going ahead with slaughtering anyway.

Interfere With Railway

Pickets at Myrnam, Beauvallon and Morecambe tried to persuade the conductor of a train which included eight cars of stock to have the stock taken off. He refused to comply with the request and police were called. The train was then allowed to proceed without interference.

The incident prompted the calling of a meeting at Marwayne to organize a local of the A. F. U. Some farmers said the strike was injuring only the small dairy farmer who depended on his weekly cheques. Others insisted the strike be prolonged and threatened increased picketing.

29 Convictions

Earlier disorders in northern Alberta had resulted in 29 convictions in police courts despite the warnings of the R. C. M. P. and the attorney-general's department that violence would not be tolerated. In every case, arrests and convictions have been swift.

In Saskatoon, striking farmers blockaded the union livestock yards with cars, and trucks, preventing the delivery of cattle and hogs. One truck, however, went through the picket lines with a burst of speed.

Manning Defends Policy on Strike

Criticizing the provincial leader of the C.C.F., (Elmer E. Roper, M. L.A.) Manning did not mention by name, for a "deliberate effort to distort and misrepresent the government's attitude for the obvious purpose of making political capital," Premier Manning defended the government's policy concerning the farmers' no-delivery strike in an address Friday night.

"The fact that the farmers of this province have not entrusted one single representative of his (C.C.F.) party with the responsibility of representing their interests in the legislative assembly would indicate that the farmers of Alberta are wise to such cheap political tactics," said the premier.

After outlining the provincial government's efforts in urging Ottawa to grant the farmers' request for a fact-finding board, Mr. Manning said no one could deny that the strike was inflicting a heavy financial loss on the farmers' themselves.

Suffering Losses

"It is likewise clear to all that the business organizations suffering the greatest financial loss as a result of the strike are the farmers' own co-operative marketing associations," he said.

Mr. Manning declared it was equally clear to everyone "that the non-delivery strike has been ineffective as a means of directly penalizing the federal officials whose inexcusable inaction is the cause of the farmers' protest.

"There are those who are proclaiming the strike an outstanding success, but let us not overlook the fact that it has been a success in only one respect," said Mr. Manning.

"It has successfully penalized and inflicted financial loss, inconvenience and actual hardship not on those whose inaction is responsible for the strike but on the farmers themselves, on their own co-operative marketing associations and on their own friends and neighbors and fellow citizens in the villages, towns and cities of their own province," said the premier.

Telegrams Quoted

The premier quoted telegrams he had sent to Prime Minister King urging the federal government to comply with the "reasonable request of western Canadian farmers with respect to setting up a fact-finding board as a step toward the establishment of parity prices for agricultural products."

Mr. Manning said the provincial government had expressed the view that the course of action being taken by the A.F.U. in calling the non-delivery strike was ill-advised from the farmers' own best interests.

"This viewpoint has been expressed, not only by the government but by many citizens who are likewise sympathetic to the union's present objective," he said.

"It has been expressed and emphasized by various sections of the farmers' own organizations throughout Canada but this certainly does not mean that those holding this viewpoint are any less sincere in their desire to secure a square deal for agriculture than are the members of the Farmers' Union who preciptated the strike," said the premier.

Mr. Manning said he wanted to make it clear that neither the government nor the police officers whose duty it is to enforce the law have taken sides as between striking and non-striking farmers. Instructions to the police were to see that strikers and non-strikers alike were assured the full protection of the law.

Closing of Library In Belgrade Rapped

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Diplomatic officials were apprehensive Saturday that forced closing of an American library in Belgrade jeopardizes the whole flow of United States information into Soviet-dominated eastern Europe.

The state department drafted a note to the Yugoslav government urging removal of the ban on the United States information service, on the ground that the "fundamental and basic democratic issue" of freedom is involved.

But reports from Belgrade said the Tito administration is insisted upon keeping the information service closed. Officials here saw a possibility that other Soviet-dominated regimes may follow suit.

The U. S. maintains information services in Russia and 60 other countries to distribute such matter as American books, magazines, official speeches and documents.

William Clayton, undersecretary of state, said at a press conference: American officials, "find it very difficult to believe that Yugoslavia really means to deny to its people the basic freedom for which the American people with their Allies undertook the war against Fascism."

The reading room in downtown Belgrade was closed Thursday after the Yugoslav government had accused the United States information service of engaging in "anti-Yugoslav activities."

Combating Delinquency

Another teen age club has been organized by the Edmonton Recreation Commission and will be known as the Boyle Street Teen Club. Some 65 boys and girls attended the organizational meeting. This adds still another to those groups which have done and will continue to do a splendid work among the young people of this city.

There is no particular magic in any teen age club. But it is a matter of statistical record that where these clubs flourish in a wholesome way, juvenile delinquency is always reduced to a minimum.

For juvenile delinquency, in 90 cases out of every 100, is not the result of bad hereditary or bad instincts in a child. It is the result of boredom. There are other contributing factors, of course. Evil influences creep into the life of almost every child somewhere. But by far the greater number of those boys and girls who go wrong are young people who have nothing useful and interesting to do in their off hours.

The value of the teen age club lies in the fact that it provides constructive challenges to the child's imagination. It enables him or her to employ energy in a positive and healthy way. It directs the natural exuberance of childhood along decent and constructive lines.

The Edmonton Recreation Commission performs a very valuable social function in establishing these organizations.

Our Friend the Pig

There is no surprise in the news coming from Denmark that the enterprising Danish farmers and the directors of processing plants there are laying lines to recapture the British bacon market, which they lost to Canada under the handicap of war conditions. But for that handicap they would still be sending their excellent bacon to Britain in pre-war quantities or better, and Canada still holding second place or worse.

At present scarcity of feed is keeping down Danish hog production. The kill per year is down to 35,000, compared with 176,000 in 1932. Denmark has to import hog-feed, and world supplies are now scarce and prices up. But this situation is temporary, and as supplies become more plentiful the Canadian product will have to meet stiffening competition with Danish bacon in British markets.

To hold Canada's present position in those markets it will be necessary to ship from 600 millions to 700 millions of pounds per year. These shipments will have to go forward week by week with dependable regularity. And the product will of course have to be of unsurpassed quality.

What loss of the British bacon market, or of the premier position in that market, would mean to Canadian farmers and packers hardly needs emphasis. Through the war years bacon was the biggest item in the list of foods moving from the Dominion to the old lands. If that trade was important when there was a keen demand abroad for nearly all kinds of food products, it will obviously be even more important when the demand for other products slackens off.

This would seem to be a time when farmers, farmers' organizations, and officials of the agriculture departments should centre attention on ways and means to maintain hog production in Canada permanently at something fairly close to the wartime volume. There is no other farm product which Canada is better able to produce on an export basis, and none for which the future demand is better assured.

Another Big "Bang"

Not content with the experimental explosions at Bikini, the U.S. navy is going to stage another curiosity-inspired blow-up. This time at a naval reserve and proving grounds in the state of Idaho. Which state, by the way, borders our neighboring province of British Columbia.

Next Tuesday the navy men will touch off 250 tons of T.N.T. there, just to see what happens. Specifically they want to find out whether another 1,500,000 pounds of explosive stationed nearby will also go off.

If it does, the conclusion will be that the storage places were too close together, or that some other kind of insulator should have been used. If the second powder bin doesn't explode, the assumption will be that the distance was sufficient and the insulating material all right.

Incidentally, the taxpayers of the United States will also be out the cost of 1,500,000 pounds of explosive if the second magazine blows up, and in the same amount if it doesn't.

This of course looks like sheer waste. But it isn't. There was a time when hundreds or thousands of lives depend on whether naval or military men know how to store explosives. There are times, too, when a powder factory goes up and scores of lives are lost because someone did not know where and how to store the product safely. The planned explosions at Arco will help to make these things better known.

And for the comfort of people living around Nelson, Cranbrook and Fernie, it may be added that the Arco proving grounds are about 300 miles south of the border.

The Unchurched

There are hundreds of thousands of people in this country who adhere, in a vague and general way, to the principles of the Christian faith but who do not feel it necessary to support or attend any church.

Some of these go so far as to send their children to Sunday school, practice a few minor religious observances in their homes and always speak respectfully of the Church and of religion. In so doing, they feel they have discharged their religious obligations fully.

Most of these people are splendid citizens, generous to their community, honest and decent in their lives and kind to their neighbors.

But with all these virtues they are not making the slightest contribution to the building or maintenance of a Christian civilization. And, as many of them know, if the world does not have a Christian civilization, it will have no civilization at all.

These worthy people make no contribution to a Christian civilization because they neglect the central fact of Christian practice. That central fact is worship.

Our Saviour gave two commandments to the world. The first was that men should love God with all their hearts. The second was that they should love their neighbors as themselves.

Those who love God will worship God, openly and before all men. And no one can truly love his neighbor who does not love God because the Fatherhood of God is the only basis for the brotherhood of man.

Aside from the spiritual need for worship, active support of a church is essential because the Church focusses all the forces that work towards the building of a Christian civilization. The Church is the only place where all good forces can meet. It is the only agency that can co-ordinate the Christian good will of men.

To be a Christian without being a church-going and a church-working Christian is simply to pull the destiny of the world in a thousand different directions.

It is not enough for Christians to work. They must work together.

The Crops That Failed

Following closely upon the official estimate that Alberta farmers are reaping a 142,000,000 bushel crop of wheat, with coarse grain figures also far above those of last year, it is somewhat disconcerting to learn that in over 450 townships in this province crops are so poor the farmers there will qualify for grants from the Dominion treasury under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

This is the more surprising because grain yields average per acre sown well over the averaged yields of the last 25 years. The straw is good. Even the assistance that a farmer's land must give a return of not more than eight bushels per acre, while the maximum grant is paid only where the yield drops to four bushels per acre or less. The yield per acre outside these 450 poor-crop townships must therefore be substantially better even than the general statement indicated.

In all $11,000,000 will be paid out in these assistance grants, and the recipients will run into thousands. That is a lot of money, but it could not go in a better cause, nor one which the taxpayers would more heartily approve. Farming is the basis of our national economy, and eleven million dollars is really a small price to pay in order to maintain farm families who have failed to secure crops over an area so large as the prairie provinces.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

Health of Britain

BY F. B. WALKER
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON — The health of Britain, which might have been gravely impaired by the strain of wartime conditions, actually improved in many important respects between 1939 and 1945. The ministry of health, in the first report to be submitted since 1939, terms the record as "indeed a miracle." It was little less than this.

For five years — and to some extent today as well — the people of Britain worked under conditions of unimaginable strain which logically should have reacted in serious health deterioration. Instead, vital statistics for the period show a quite definite improvement. More than this, war taxed heavily medical resources but again, conditions, instead of growing worse, grew better.

The ministry report is a happy and proud history of the period as well it might be. It is an astonishing document which shows an improved birth rate, curtailed loss of infant life, a sharp fall in the expected increase in tuberculosis —there was a temporary increase in the early stages of the war— lack of winter colds, decrease in diphtheria, and a growing recognition of the continuing need for education and development of the medical services.

There were increases — expected —in such diseases as cancer and venereal sickness but the former was no more than was due to the increased number of persons in the age bracket where the disease is most prevalent while venereal disease, though it increased in number by a certain extent was offset by the use of new drugs. The educational campaign, aimed at V. D., also showed results in early treatment.

All this is made the more remarkable when it is considered how the British people were forced to live in the long period between the outbreak of war and the German armistice. For months on end, they lived in blackout, ill ventilated rooms and in the damp, squalor and discomfort of air raid shelters, frequent nights of fitful sleep and worked during the day under strained, nerve-racking conditions of war and family disruption.

The report further stresses what the war has clearly shown that "nutrition is the very essence and basis of national health." It states furthermore that despite all the limitations of rationing and the disappearance of favorite dishes from the British tables, national health is as good in the case of adults and as regards children is probably better.

The improvement in the health of the child population of the nation is quite clearly attributable not only to an improved diet but to the increased protection provided children through immunization and inspection.

FURTHERMORE, the vast mobilization of war provided heaven-sent opportunity to cut across local boundaries and authorities in the provision of the national scale. The importance of this can be seen in the work done by the national laboratory services which provided for both hospitals and local health authorities and covered out discrepancies which existed in pre-war days. As the report says many hospitals were in an extremely backward state in regard to these services and the organization of them on a country-wide basis did much to preserve the general standard.

As another example of what war produced, the report points to the pooling of accommodation and specialist staffs of the major hospitals. The natural concentration which has taken place in the urban centres of Britain has thus been overcome or, to state it better, utilized in its most efficient and practical form.

The figures on the birthrate are interesting. The rate has risen from 1941 on and in 1944 reached 17.7, the highest recorded since 1930. The loss of infant life declined to a new low of 45 deaths per thousand for infants under one year.

This saving was not restricted to this group of children. The record improved in age groups from one to five, five to nine and ten to 14, a remarkable achievement when it is considered that direct enemy action accounted for the lives of 7,000 children under the age of 15.

All this is in the past and there is still room for improvement. Furthermore, there is the danger that the co-ordination forced upon the country by war may be relaxed with peace. The health figures are also capable of improvement and as the report concludes "the search remains to be done before the average elementary school child can be assured of that physical development which he is inherently capable of attaining."

☆ ☆ ☆

There is an obvious plea in every line of the report that the good done through the necessities of war will not be undone in the peace And there is also a lesson that can be learned in all countries. Health is in fact a responsibility but a major concern of any worthwhile national government.

RECREATION WEEK

Editor, Bulletin—It is considered that Edmonton's Second Annual Recreation Week was quite successful with the exception of the many programs curtailed due to inclement weather during the later part of the week. The excellent co-operation and assistance of all organizations in the city including the various social, sporting, fraternal and others made this week possible, and on behalf of the Recreation Committee I wish to extend my sincere thanks to these organizations and to the citizens of Edmonton for their wholehearted support.

I also extend a special thanks to the press and broadcasting stations, without whose co-operation this week would not have been possible.

FARMERS' HELP

Edior, Bulletin—I was listening to a radio broadcast by a leader of the current farmers' strike the other night which had particular interest for me.

The speaker was making a special appeal to organized labor for support. He was telling the workers that the farmers are fighting the battles of the trade unionist in the present strike. His talk jolted my memory a little.

In 1938 I journeyed to the country to work in the harvest fields. I was engaged by a large-scale (and for that period) prosperous farmer as a stooker.

The pay was $1.50 per day. That seemed fair enough because there was no $1.50 wheat at that time. But on arrival at the farm my employer explained to me that in addition to my stooking duties from 6:30 a.m. until dark I was to feed, water and play nursemaid to 127 hogs. The water for the hogs had to be hand-pumped and carried in buckets to the troughs. Did you ever try keeping water troughs filled for 127 hogs in the blazing August sunshine? It isn't funny Magee.

On the first evening friend farmer explained that as relatives were visiting him there was no room in the house to sleep but I could find a good "comfortable bed in the haystack. I stuck it out eight days and quit.

Of course all farmers are not so inconsiderate of their help. My only observation in closing is that some farmers are pretty shrewd when they draw up'contracts" for their hired help.

—NEVER AGAIN

FARMERS' DEMAND

Editor, Bulletin—This urban Canadian is all in favor of the farmers' demand for a fair deal in the market-place and, as a result, their appropriate share of the national income. According to my reading of the newspapers, real progress has been made in recent years in this very direction. I think it is generally recognized by sound thinkers and men and women of goodwill, that the day of ruining whole communities of primary producers (either in Canada or Argentina or China) simply because they have produced abundance is over—not withstanding all references to the sacred law (!) of supply-demand by a comparative few dear World Powers speculating in the people's food?

I well recall an editorial in The Bulletin last summer, entitled "Starving 'Eats' for Granted" in which the following keen reference is made to labor-management turmoil since the arrival of Labor and the V-J Day: Bargain-making about hours and wages is based on the supposition that Nature and the farmers will continue to cooperate and produce food. Let either of them fail, and in six months or so Canadians would be in the same plight as the valiant Chinese in their drought-stricken 'rice-bowl' Those who live in towns and pursue secondary occupations would do well to keep that basic fact in mind. If they did so, they might settle their employer-employee differences in the light of their mutual dependence on factors beyond their control." (Edmonton Bulletin, May 21, 1946).

This reader concurred in those editorial conclusions then, and do so more heartily today, in the light of the disgusting and disappointing spectacle of grab and counter-grab, presented in the interesting meantime. I send along the above dynamic warning, not to support the strike method of AFU (Farmers) which merely increases the confusion but to express the opinion that there is a relationship between the anti-social trends.

There are various ways of speeding-up the struggle for "parity prices" for agriculture; but starving and alienating the sympathy of the Canadian people is not among them. I have reason to know that the enemies of the organized farmers are pleased with this rift in those rural ranks.

"ON THE PAVEMENTS."

STRIKES AS 'BLACKMAIL'

Editor, Bulletin—St. John Ervine the noted Irish journalist, in an article on labor strikes has this to say: "Is not a strike a form of blackmail levied, for the most part, on people who have done no wrong? . . . The trolley man (and the railway man have no right to compel the rest of us to walk in any kind of weather because they want a rise of wages or reduction in hours of labor."

If by the strike labor gains an increase of wages, don't imagine for a moment that the employer absorbs the increase. No, indeed; It is simply passed on to the "deer peepul" who pay and pay.

The strike is a barbarous and archaic measure and should be abolished. But how can labor secure the increase in wages commensurate to the increased cost of living if the strike weapon is denied? "Elementary" my dear Watson! Give labor a stake in business, an equitable share in the profits (details mutually arranged); in 50 years the gain should be substantial, and by reasonable economy lean years, if any, provided for. At bottom, capital and labor may be likened to the three legs of a stool (as illustrated by the late Andrew Carnegie): take one leg away and the stool collapses.

Given a share in the profits of business labor will have an added incentive to increase production, improve methods and render more loyal service generally.

SLAMMIN' SAMMY

There are two concepts struggling to capture the minds of men. One is based on force, the other on reason. And the people are going to gravitate to the one where they see the greatest value to themselves.

Eric Johnson, president Motion Picture Producers' and Distributors' Association.

The Road Ahead

By Harper Prowse, M.L.A
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

The complaint is often voiced that there is a great and dangerous shortage of persons capable of giving outside leadership in Canada today. No matter what one discusses, whether it be political parties, organizations of every kind, or just "straw bosses" on ordinary laboring jobs the question of leadership comes up—and the conversation usually ends up with headshaking and long faces as everybody finally agrees that we are woefully short of leaders.

This does not mean that we are short of men and women capable of providing leadership. But it does mean we are short of capable men and women who are willing to accept the duties and responsibility of which falls on those who lead. Yet we need good leadership today, in fact it these times of confused issues and muddled principles, more than we have ever done. An organization, or a nation, which goes its way without competent and honest leadership will wallow about as hopelessly as a ship without a rudder in a hurricane.

It is evident that we have many people who could give us the leadership we need if they would. Why then are their services not available when they are needed so badly?

One of the most difficult problems the Army had to face was to persuade men with ability to take "stripes." Many a man refused to become a lance-corporal, or a corporal or a sergeant, or accept a commission because he was perfectly happy to leave the responsibility to somebody else. But as the war progressed and men became battle-wise, many of these men who had always refused to accept the responsibilities of leadership finally did take the "stripes" which were offered—and did first class jobs. But it was only the knowledge that if they did not lead the others that they themselves would be led by incompetents which caused them to change their minds.

The situation in civilian life is parallel. Most people feel that their own private affairs are much more important than the overall welfare of the country. Yet, if the country is poorly led, then everybody's private affairs are going to suffer. It is just as important today that capable men and women assume positions of leadership as it was that the capable private became an NCO. Because if the job of leading us is left to second-raters then we, like the private, are the ones who are going to suffer.

Canada probably has more potential leaders per unit of population than any other country in the world. The fact that the services of these men and women are not available to us is an indictment of their selfishness and shortsightedness. Offering leadership may be a thankless job, but those who can do it have a duty to their fellow men and women which cannot be ignored without penalty.

Today in Europe

By Randolph Churchill
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS: Britain's state-owned airlines are today going through an internal crisis.

The decision of the Labor Government to acquire control of all British airlines was taken against the advice of Lord Winster, Minister of civil aviation. Winster is nominally a member of the Labor party, but he is not a socialist nor a believer in the blessings of state control.

Britain's airlines are today owned 100 per cent by the Government. They are organized in three main trunking companies. British Overseas Airways has the British monopoly to fly the North Atlantic and all Empire routes. British European Airways has the British monopoly in Europe. The third, British South American Airways, is the only company entitled to organize flights from Britain to Brazil and Argentina.

Each of these three Government monopolies are protected by law. Any private person or company which dared to compete with them would not only be fined, but the individuals concerned could be sent to prison for upwards of two years. The whole policy is a stranglehold ought to give these British airlines a strongly competitive position in world aviation. Unfortunately, there are two factors which are handicapping them.

One is the fact that the British aviation industry is unable at the present time to produce satisfactory types of aircraft. During the war, Britain concentrated exclusively on military aircraft. She produced in the Spitfire and Typhoon the finest types of fighter aircraft. In the Halifax and the Lancaster, she produced satisfactory long-range bomber types, but these were inferior to the Flying Fortress and Superfortress produced in the United States. Britain produced no transport aircraft of any kind during the war. She relied instead on American deliveries of Dakotas under lend-lease.

Some months ago it was reported in this column that, though the British aircraft industry was temporarily handicapped by its wartime concentration on military types, there was reason to suppose that by 1948 it would shoot ahead of even the American aircraft industry with revolutionary types of airplanes propelled by gas turbine engines. The latest information at my disposal indicates, however, that these types of aircraft, which will fly at nearly 500 miles per hour, will not be available before 1950, and possibly not before 1951.

The second factor which is handicapping British civil aviation is undoubtedly state control. If the airlines were run privately, they would, in default of British aircraft, buy American planes and operate them on the various routes which are essential to British commerce. But as all the airlines are state-owned, all sorts of considerations of national prestige arise.

Lord Winster, Minister of Civil Aviation, is distrusted by the Labor Party since he is known to be a believer in private enterprise. Most leftists would like to see him removed from his present office. But all sensible members of the British Cabinet know that, in taking over civil aviation, they have bitten off more than they can chew. And if Lord Winster were to be dismissed, it would be difficult to find a successor.

Indonesia Said Time Bomb Left by Japan after Defeat

By George Weller

BATAVIA, Java, (CDN)—The Indonesian republic is Japan's most successful time bomb, delayed to explode after the Allied victory.

Wherever you go, either within the republic or outside, you see evidence that Japan's political organizers have done their work well.

The revolution has a broad anti-colonial basis and perhaps would have spurted into a scattered eruption without Japanese assistance by arms, organization and direct participation. But, even today, Japanese characters are chiseled into many of the republic's thoughts and activities. Japanese imperial money is still the only legal currency within the republic and Japanese patrol leaders are killed almost weekly on the Bandoeng front by the Dutch.

Movie Shows Work

As a matter of fact, all you need to do is visit a cheap movie house in Batavia's Chinatown to see how well Japan has done its work.

The house is filled with Indonesians and Chinese, the former predominating. The screen flashes on with "Japan," a topical short prepared by "Kangaroo pictures" of Australia. There are opening shots of Tokyo peaceful and prosperous, with every building intact. Japanese imperial mansions, their cherry blossoms and filial piety. Then they swing to the martial life, parades, reviews and the mighty imperial army.

The audience is silent and intensely attentive. Next comes an exquisite tea ceremony, showing how artistic are Indonesia's friends. Finally, with a reverent approach, the picture enters the Mikado's palace and shows the "son of heaven" in all his glory.

Then, bang, back to charging Japanese cavalry. The audience can not contain itself any longer, and breaks into prolonged applause.

Audience Indignant

Doleful music sounds. You see a map of the Mikado's prospering empire suddenly blotted out by an insidious wave from America. Next comes a shot of Gen. Douglas MacArthur looking very weary and hair-beaten, trudging up a beach, followed by a file of two or three forlorn G.I.'s in defensive attitudes.

The audience is silent and there is a general air of disappointment. The picture leaves the native with the impression that Japan underwent some temporary embarrassment, but will soon be doing business again at the old stand, possibly even in Indonesia.

In the parlors of some native homes Japan's flag is found, paired with the republic's red and white. Some republican sentries give the little ducking Japanese bow, showing their Nipponese training.

When the writer recently tried to give a ragged woman in a village five miles behind Dutch lines a silver coin, she said: "I am afraid to accept this money, because the republic says it is illegal. Could you give me a Japanese yen?"

Conspicuously lacking in all statements by the republic is an admission that the United States with the Allies, won the Pacific war and thereby made Indonesia's revolution possible. There is no embarrassment about, or rationalization, of the fact that the Indonesian army has the same officers as when the bulk of it was under the Japanese.

Co-ordinating Body For Labor Asked

WINDSOR, (CP)—The 61st convention of the Trades and Labor congress wound up Thursday with delegates asking for the organization of a national co-ordinating council on which all Canadian labor union centres would be represented. The convention also went on record favoring affiliation with the World Trade Union federation.

Other resolutions which received approval asked establishment of a minimum wage of 65 cents an hour and a 40-hour week; the appointment of a non-partisan political action committee and adoption by Canada of foreign policy based on Big Three co-operation.

Dealing with unemployment insurance, the convention favored a 50 percent increase in benefits with payments to become effective from the first day and to cover the entire period of unemployment. The delegates also favored more frequent meetings by unemployment insurance referees.

The resolution on unity in the labor movement said responsibility for shaping Canada's post-war economy rested on a united labor movement.

It instructed T.L.C. officers to take steps to organize a national co-ordinating committee to bring representatives of all union centres together in an effort to agree on "a program for united action on a national scale and on behalf of all organized workers in Canada.

The convention also favored "most fraternal co-operation with veterans' organizations." The salary of the president, Percy R. Bengough, was increased from $6,000 to $6,500 a year and of the secretary-treasurer, J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, from $4,000 to $4,500 with expense allowances for each of the officials stepped up from $3 to $7 a day. The delegates approved a special assessment of 25 cents for members of all affiliated organizations to provide funds to extend organization.

The convention decided to send a special wire of protest at removal by the federal government of milk subsidies.

U.N. May Review Attacks in Greece

By Charles Nichols

LONDON.—Possibility arose Saturday the Greek government will take before the United Nations security council allegedly foreign-inspired attacks by armed Communist insurrectionists against frontier military posts.

Greek Communists claim that already guerilla warfare is flaming so widely through Greece's wheat-growing province of Thessaly that only one of the five districts is held by government forces; and this is borne out by reports from neutral correspondents. Meanwhile the weight of evidence from the northern frontier is that Greek government forces have put down the armed band that attacked a gendarmerie post at Konitsa, on the Albanian frontier.

These clashes between Communists and Royalist government forces, described as the most serious since the close of the civil war more than a year and half ago, have been becoming more and more frequent with the imminent return of King George to Athens throne, and with the acceleration of preparations to withdraw all British forces from the country.

It is known the Greek government does not want to call for any foreign help in putting down rebels so long as there is a chance of doing it with Greek forces. Prime Minister Tsaldaris' public charge that rebels are acting "in the interests of those (powers) seeking access to the Aegean" through Greek territory, causes the belief here that it will be difficult to escape bringing incidents before the United Nations.

Greek authorities maintain that Communists bands are being armed by Yugoslav, Albanian and Bulgarian weapons, even those captured insurrections guns have been of German and Italian manufacture. Bands attacking frontier posts have fled across Albanian and Yugoslav frontiers.

There is reported evidence Greek guerillas are being trained in a Communist battle school in Monastir in Yugoslavia.

In view of these allegations, the prospect of Greece becoming another Persia to satisfy the aspirations of neighboring Communist-dominated countries, Athens is expected to try to bring the crisis before the international tribunal.

Waterton Leaves Air Service Soon

TANGMERE, Sussex, England, (CP)—Sqdn. Ldr. William A. Waterton, R.A.F., of Edmonton, who shared in recent R.A.F. air speed record attempts here . . . said Saturday he expected to leave the service next month.

Sqdn. Ldr. Waterton was No. 2 test pilot to group Capt. E. M. Donaldson in the Gloster Meteor jet-propelled flights which established a record of 616 miles an hour.

Further attempts to break their own records were made Tuesday but were two miles an hour short of the top official time. The test flights were abandoned Friday.

In the trial flights Sqdn. Ldr. Waterton exceeded 620 miles an hour.

Unfavorable weather caused the abandonment of further R.A.F. tests this year but the south coast course will be kept open for flights by Geoffrey De Havilland in an experimental jet plane with swept-back wings.

Sqdn. Ldr. Waterton, who delayed accepting his discharge in order to participate in the tests, said after his release he will stay in Britain where he has obtained a civilian job.

Indians Peeved, Won't Celebrate?

POLSON, Mont., (AP) — Friday is American Indian day, set aside to honor the Indians of the United States, but the country's 500,000 tribesmen aren't in a celebrating mood. They're peeved at the government.

In this northwestern Montana Flathead Indian reservation young, well-educated Stephen Demers, a Salish tribesman who is secretary of the American Indians of Montana, says:

"I don't believe the Indians will so much celebrating. They're not in the mood. They're fed up with the guff they've been getting for 300 years."

To point out the feelings of the Indians, the war veteran explains that the projected construction of Garrison dam, a North Dakota reclamation project, has brought heated protests because the lake would flood out hundreds of Assiniboine and Sioux.

"The government says those tribesmen will be compensated and given other land, but the Indians are leery of government promises.

Another sore spot with American Indians is a law which prohibits the sale of liquor to them.

Canadian Relations With Britain Closer

OTTAWA. (CP) — The recent parade of British cabinet ministers through Canada and of Canadian ministers through Britain has provided assurance that the peace-time co-operation between the British and Canadian governments is becoming closer.

It is known that Prime Ministers Attlee and Mackenzie King have established a deep personal regard for each other and are as close together as Mr. King and the late President Roosevelt. One of the fruits of this relationship is an agreement that Canadian and British cabinet ministers are to intermingle as freely and as often as possible.

The new status of Canadian-British relations has been described as resulting in a shift of Canadian foreign affairs further away from the United States and closer to London. It is known that Mr. King and President Truman have not taken up the deep close personal relationship that existed between Mr. King and Mr. Roosevelt.

FIND HUMAN BONES

TORONTO, (CP)—Discovery of human bones during a cellar excavation Thursday night gave suburban North York township a first-class mystery. Police started to dig for other parts of the skeleton, believed that of a 50-year-old man. An empty liquor bottle and a coin lay near the bones.

Says Took Office Against Wishes

MOOSE JAW, Sask. — Attorney-General J. W. Corman of Saskatchewan said Thursday that Walter Tucker, member of Parliament for Rosthern, Sask., and recently elected Saskatchewan Liberal leader, took the provincial leadership against his own wishes.

Mr. Corman said in an "open letter" to Mr. Tucker the provincial Liberal leader would meet opposition in the province from not only non-liberals but those members of his own party "who resented domination from Mr. Gardiner (Agriculture Minister Gardiner)."

Cafe Men Asking Price Increases

TORONTO, (CP)—The Canadian Restaurant association Friday made public a brief asking the prices board for authorization of an increase of five cents on all orders including fish, meat or poultry or full course meals up to 50 cents. It also asks an increase of 10 cents on meals costing 50 cents to $1 and 15 cents on those costing $1 or more.

Re-elect Mosher C. C. L. President

TORONTO, (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor Friday re-elected A. R. Mosher of Ottawa president. He polled 854 votes, against 188 for C. S. Jackson of Toronto, United Electrical Workers' union official.

Re-elected by acclamation were Alex McCausland of Vancouver, first vice-president, and Saul Spivak of Montreal, second vice-president.

Pat Conroy of Ottawa was re-elected secretary-treasurer, defeating Harold Pritchett of International Woodworkers, Vancouver, by 490-179.

War Bride's Mate Is Found Suicide

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. — Mrs. Orne Rogers, Scottish war bride, Thursday told a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of her husband last Sept. 18, she had admonished him for not washing the afternoon tea dishes and he had said: "If we are going to live like that I might as well finish it off."

She said he then left the room, took a revolver and fired it into his head before she could stop him.

The jury returned a verdict of death by his own hands.

Manitoba Premier Plans Tax Pact

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Premier Garson of Manitoba said Friday he would go to Ottawa "sometime in October" to complete Manitoba's agreement with the federal government in fields of taxation. The province is one of three which accepted the dominion's offer to deal individually with the provinces after the breakdown of the dominion-provincial conference earlier this year.

"I would like to emphasize again that the agreement, while more advantageous to us than no agreement, is not nearly as favorable to the provinces as were the dominion's proposals which the conference of all the provinces, with the dominion last May could not agree to accept," Mr. Garson said.

EDMONTON'S COMMUNITY CHEST

OPENS ON

MONDAY

We urge you to study these facts

All through the war years, your Community Chest appealed only for minimum funds. The subscribing agencies asked for only absolutely essential support. This year - buildings must be repaired, services expanded -- and welfare work put back on a pre-war basis. That's the reason for double the objective - it's the reason why everyone is asked to give twice - once for maintenance, once for capital. 28 welfare agencies look for your help. The Community Chest is their only appeal - their only way of paying for the services they give to the community. On Monday, you'll receive a Community Chest folder. Study it - be ready for your canvasser's call. Earn the symbol of a helping hand - the red feather - and be proud to wear it. Do your part by giving generously to Edmonton's Community Chest

Danish Premier Takes Own Lunch

By James McCook

COPENHAGEN, (CP) — Knud Kirstensen, sturdy farmer-prime minister of Denmark, goes to restaurants in glittering government buildings carrying his lunch in a neat parcel.

When he orders coffee and opens his sandwiches, the waiters show no surprise, because thousands of others in Copenhagen do likewise.

Danes like to cite this case when assuring foreign visitors that the food position of their land it not represented truly by lavish meals provided by the government on special occasions or by the menus in restaurants where money can be spent freely.

Because food is Denmark's main export commodity, its conservation is encouraged by the government. Although butter is exported in great quantity, strict rationing is imposed at home and the individual receives about 1 1/6 ounces daily. Butter coupons have to be handed over for most restaurant meals.

The daily sugar ration works out at 1½ ounces, coffee ½ ounce, tea 1/10th ounce and white bread 2½ ounces. Persons over six years are allowed eight ounces of rye bread and children under six 3 1/3 ounces.

However, Danish housewives are free of many of the cares of their British counterparts. They can obtain most of the meat they want if not always in the type or quality preferred, because the export market is apt to have the preference.

Vegetables are easily obtained and the stalls at markets usually are full of a variety of goods. The queues to which the British housewife has become accustomed are rare in Denmark.

A REAL Thanksgiving!

Here are two wonderful dishes for your Thanksgiving dinner—one a mouth-watering Pumpkin Pie, spicy and delicious . . . the other a light, fluffy Johnny Cake, crisp and golden. Both can bake in your oven at the same time! Remember that they'll taste best made with Swift's Blended Jewel — the famous quick-creaming shortening for all your baking. Now, due to the world fat shortage, Jewel is hard-to-find. However, Swift's are really trying to distribute the available Jewel fairly.

Martha Logan

PUMPKIN PIE

JEWEL PASTRY
2 cups sifted pastry flour
½ tsp. salt
⅔ cup Blended Jewel
Cold water (approx. 4-6 tablespoons)

PUMPKIN FILLING
2 Brookfield eggs
1 tsp. ground cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
1 tbsp. corn starch
¾ tsp. salt
½ cup corn syrup
¼ cup brown sugar
1 cup canned or stewed cooked pumpkin
1¼ cups rich milk

For pastry, sift together twice flour and salt; cut in half the Jewel finely; cut remaining Jewel in coarsely. (Blended Jewel cuts in wonderfully—makes the tenderest pastry!) Lightly mix in enough cold water to make dough soft but just cling together. Turn out on floured baking board; roll to about 1/8" thickness; line 8½" pie plate. (Wrap extra pie paste in wax paper; store in refrigerator for later use.)

For the filling, beat eggs slightly, stir in cinnamon, ginger, corn starch, salt, corn syrup, sugar, pumpkin and milk. Turn into lined pie pan. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 10 minutes; reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake till filling is set (a silver knife inserted in the centre will come out clean) about 40 minutes longer.

JOHNNY CAKE

1 cup sifted pastry flour or ⅞ cup sifted hard-wheat flour
4 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup yellow cornmeal
½ cup brown sugar
1 Brookfield egg
⅔ cup milk
5 tbsps. Jewel Shortening, melted

Measure and sift together twice, flour, baking powder and salt; mix in cornmeal and sugar. Beat egg until thick and light; stir in milk and melted Jewel. (Jewel is the Blended Shortening that's best for all baking!) Make a well in flour mixture and add the liquid all at once; combine lightly. Turn into a greased 8" square cake pan. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, about 20 minutes. Cut into squares and serve with maple syrup or other sweet sauce.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

John Ducey, baseball impressario and co-partner with John Beatty in Renfrew Park affairs, stepped up to the plate Friday night and announced that the real and only "Bobo" Newsom had been included in the list of major league all-stars Earle Mack is bringing to Edmonton for exhibition games on Oct. 9 and 10.

Joe Gordon, New York Yankee with the long bat and a five times World Series veteran, also it expected to make the trip according to a message received yesterday from Herb Hester, Earle Mack's advance agent — another piece of very satisfactory news.

"BOBO" NEWSOM

It's almost a matter of decades since Louis (Buck or Bobo — whichever you prefer) Newsom was a contender for the rookie award in the majors and he has shopped around considerable in big time baseball, but he still oozes color and plenty of it. Joe Gordon, of course, is one of the greatest "money" players in the history of baseball.

And so with Newsom and Gordon added to an already impressive array of talent gathered up by Earle Mack for the swing through Western Canada, the roster is almost complete, apparently only a fifteenth member of the party remaining to be named.

Kreller Likely Flyer

It now seems reasonably certain that Elmer (the Shadow) Kreller will be in an Edmonton Flyer uniform for the coming season. Of course it's supposed to be in the rumor stage yet, but the fact he had gotten as far west as Regina, which is a very considerable distance from St. Catherines where Pittsburgh Hornets are working out, lends color to the report.

Also in the rumor division are items that Clovechuk is on his way back to Vancouver, that Doug Stevenson has been sold to St. Paul and Emil Francis of last year's Moose Jaw Canucks is the likely nominee for Kansas City Pla-Mors' nets. And is it true that Alex Pringle still isn't sold on the idea of playing minor league hockey? Alex, of course would look right handsome in an Edmonton Flyer uniform too. .

Terry Cavanagh is going to the Los Angeles club's hockey training camp at Nelson. Jim Fleming and Hassie Young are two other Edmonton players ticketed for the same destination where work is slated to commence on Monday.

Hosses to be Hoofprinted

Winners of major stake races at Garden State Park, Camden, N.J., will leave their hoofprints hereafter. A plan calls for taking the prints and having them mounted for exhibition in the grandstand.

Hoofprints of horses are said to differ just as much as thumbprints of humans. An indication of this vast difference is given by the fact virtually every race horse has to have special plates made to order, in some instances to bolster a weak spot, as in the case of Assault, in others to correct the gait.

Well, who do you like today — Lefty Joe Hatten (13-10), or Johnny Sain (20-13)? And how about the chances of Harry Breechen (14-15) against Hank Wyse (14-12)?

Chicago Cubs Deal St. Louis Stunning Blow

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—(AP) — St. Louis pennant hopes hit a new low today as the Cardinals dropped into an exact first place tie with the idle Brooklyn Dodgers by bowing to the Chicago Cubs 7-2 Friday night. Each club has only two games to play.

Thus the slumping Red Birds, who had held tight to the National League lead since Aug 28, found themselves in a wild scramble to force the Dodgers into a three-game post season playoff.

Most press box observers were inclined to favor the probability of a tie after last night's results.

HANK BOROWY who had beaten Howie Pollet, the .Bird's ace, last Sunday in Chicago, pitched the same kind of ball game last night and actually won by the same score although he couldn't finish.

The handwriting was on the wall for Pollet as early as the third inning when the Cards' No. 1 boy and 20-game winner, staggered under a three-hit attack that yielded only one run.

Pollet wasn't so lucky in the fourth when singles by Stan Hack and Lou Stringer with two out followed a walk to Bill Nicholson and Manny Marion's boot off Billy Jurges' hopper sent him to the showers. Hack's blow knocked in both Nicholson and Jurges and Stringer scored the veteran third sacker.

MURRY DICKSON, who replaced Pollet, avoided further damage during his stay on the hill but the Cubs got after Ted Wilks in the sixth for another trio.

The Cards' only threatening gesture of the night was a two-run attack on Borowy in the eighth just before he had to leave the game because of a blister on his pitching hand. Stan Musial poled his 15th home run with one on to break the shutout and end a string of 16 scoreless innings for St. Louis.

Cincinnati Reds need but one more victory to cinch sixth place in the league after Joe Beggs notched his sixth victory with a five-hit 8-0 triumph over Pittsburgh Pirates.

HIS DEPARTURE LEFT the New Yorkers with one two-brother combination at least—the old reliables Neil and Mac Colville.

Another gap in the Rangers' ranks was caused when Jack Church left for Prince Albert to attend the funeral of his father who died there Thursday night. He is expected to return to camp in a few days.

Otherwise the day was routine with Manager Frankie Boucher calling his squads down to two forward lines apiece to give them a good workout.

Bert Laprade To Return Home

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28 (CP) — The elusive Bert Laprade, Port Arthur amateur hockey star who had been pursued by professional clubs for some years without any great success, announced Friday he would not turn pro this year and was returning to Port Arthur.

Laprade, with his brother Edgar, a Ranger last year, had been working out at New York Rangers' pre-season training camp here.

SPORT BULLETIN

But Returns are Worth it

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS ARE IN FOR TRIMMING

NEW YORK, Sept. 28, (CP)—So Superior do Boston Red Sox appear to be in almost every department of play to either of the clubs they might meet in the world series starting next Wednesday that the question naturally arises: why are St. Louis Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers batting their brains out?

Why should the two national league contenders scrap themselves into a state of weary exhaustion, both physical and mental, when all the winner is going to get next week—providing the figures don't lie — is a thrashing from Colossus of the American League.

THE ANSWER is right at hand! Money. The losers' cheques from the big play-off are sufficiently large to soothe even the lacerations of a four-straight licking. What each number of the Cards and Dodgers is fighting for the next two days is the pleasant sum of around $4,000, over and above his salary, no matter what happens to him after that.

A player-by-player analysis of the Red Sox and the clubs now battling to meet them in the series has shown the American League runaways to hold an apparently overpowering advantage in pitching and hitting, and to be closely matched in all-around infield strength only by the Cardinals.

BROOKLYN DOESN'T come close to matching the Sox in any department, except, possibly, in fighting heart. The latter, so far as can be discovered, is all that has kept them in the race.

Boston's series lineup will show five of the heaviest hitters in the game today in outfielders Ted Williams and Dom Dimaggio and infielders Johnny Pesky, Bobby Doerr and Rudy York. Between them they made a shambles of the American league hurling, and there is nothing to indicate that either the Cards or the Brooks has the sort of pitching to stop these stars.

As for their own pitching, the Red Sox boast three of the top men in the business in right-handers Dave Ferris and Tex Hughson and Southpaw Mickey Harris.

THE ONLY PITCHER on either the Dodgers or the Cardinals who has set up a record to compare with the Sox trio is the Red birds' Howie Pollet, who generally is regarded only as a better-than-average pitcher — not one of the best.

The Cards, should they enter the series, would figure to have an edge over the Sox at three positions—Stan Musial, currently the game's top hitter, at first; Whitey Kurowski at third and Enos (Country) Slaughter in right field. This scarcely would counterbalance Boston's patent superiority in over-all hitting and pitching.

Bob Feller Equals Strikeout Record

DETROIT, Sept. 28—(AP)—Bob Feller, Iowa fireball pitcher of Cleveland Indians, struck with a quick-breaking curve to fan six Detroit batsmen in five innings and equal Rube Waddell's 42-year-old modern major league record of 343 strikeouts in a single season. The Indians overcame a four-run deficit to win the American League contest 9-8.

Feller, who entered the game in the fifth inning, relieving Bob Kuzava, fanned five of the first eight men to face him but it was not until the ninth inning that Jimmy Outlaw went down swinging at the pitch that put Rapid Robertson the record book.

With a three and two count on Hank Greenberg a moment later Hank tipped the next pitch and the ball caromed off catcher Jim Hegan's mitt. Had he hung onto it Feller would have got his record. But Hank walked on the next pitch and Skeeter Webb and Bob Swift hit ground balls for the final two outs of the game.

IN THE CLEVELAND clubhouse after equalling Wadell's mark Feller said:

"I'm going to pitch as much as possible and get just as many strikeouts as I can."

While the American League recognizes Waddell's old strikeout mark as officially 343, recent research indicates that Rube actually fanned as many as 349.

Feller thus needs seven more strikeouts to remove all doubt that that Waddell's hazy Mark is surpassed.

TEX HUGHSON staggered through to his 20th victory of the season as the Red Sox edged Washington Senators 5-4. Mike Higgins had a perfect day at the plate, banging out a home run in the second inning and singling on each of his other three trips. Bobo Newsom started for Washington and gave the Red Sox home crowd a few giggles in the third when he threw two blooper pitches to Ted Williams who swung viciously and missed each time.

ZALE KAYOES ROCKY IN 6th

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Sept. 28—(AP)—Tony Zale, every inch a champion, came back from the verge of a knockout last night to flatten the mighty-punching Rocky Graziano, in the sixth round of a blood-and-thunder brawl and retain his world middleweight championship. Zale weighed 160 ; Graziano 154.

Floored once himself, his face bloody as the dynamiter from New York's lower east side turned loose his famed "rock-a-bye punch," the one-time Indiana steel mill hand caught up with the challenger midway of the sixth to drop him with a lightning left hand and put him away for keeps at 1 minute 43 seconds of the sixth session of their scheduled 15-rounder.

IT WAS THE SECOND knock down of the fight for Rocky the rock, in as vicious and bloody a brawl as has been seen in any ring. But this second time, apparently softened up by the body bombs that are Tony's specialty, he couldn't make it to his feet again.

He sat on the ring canvas, holding the ropes, as referee Ruby Goldstein, himself a classy welterweight of a bygone era, counted the full 10 to leave the 160-pound crown on Tony's head in his first defence as champion.

THE FINISH was as startling as it was definite and final and one of the greatest crowds ever to see two little men in action roared for 10 minutes in shocked surprise at the suddeness of the end.

Up to that point, through three of the last four completed rounds Graziano had given Tony so fierce a going over with his right hand that when the fifth round ended, some ringsiders were even wondering whether the champion could come out for the sixth. But out he came, bleeding from the mouth, his face a smear, and Rocky started right in again. Then, suddenly, Tony caught Rocky against the ropes with two of those "tummy torpedo" specials of his. The rock covered up, came half way across the ring.

ZALE WAS AFTER him now. He lashed out with a straight left that straightened up the young knockout-cutter who had been installed a 7 to 11 favorite in the ringside betting. A righthand sent Rocky back on his heels.

Then came the crusher, a hard, crunching left hook shot out—and there was Rocky on the deck. Through "seven" and "eight" it appeared as though he might be able to pull himself to his feet. But he couldn't. Two seconds after the "10", though, he got up and apparently not realizing his shot at the throne had missed its mark, came charging rd flailing across the ring, until the referee grabbed him.

A CROWD OF 39,827, one of the greatest crowds ever to see two battlers other than heavyweights fight it out, were on hand for the proceedings and contributed to a gross gate of $342,497.

Tony complained later that he hurt his right hand in the second round, but it was still good enough to dig deep into Graziano's midsection in the semi-final shot in the sixth round.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, state athletic commission physician, looked Zale's injured hand over in the dressing room later and said that although he couldn't tell for sure without an x-ray, it appeared to be either a fracture or a bad bruise.

ROCKY ADMITTED, in his dressing room later, that when the end came, "it came so quickly I didn't know what it was."

Immediately there was talk of a rematch, but promoter Mike Jacobs will need something bigger than this huge bronx ballyard to stage it in, because everyone who was here tonight will be back, and each one will bring a couple of more with him. That's the kind of a taffypull it was.

Lacombe Gridders Play Here Sunday

Lacombe junior football team will play Maple Leaf Athletic Club juniors at Clarke Stadium Sunday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock.

Other than that the team possesses a backfield averaging 165 pounds and a line which averages 195, little is known here of the actual strength of the Lacombe squad.

HOWEVER, good reports received prompted Henry White, manager of the Maple Leafs to extend an invitation to the Lacombe boys to play against the club which will represent Edmonton in the Alberta playoff against the Calgary winners.

Coach Steve Olander announced Friday night the starting lineup for the Leafs would be ends, Wigeland, Pierce; guards — Shortread, Clarke; tackles — Kominski, McVeigh; centre — Meljnchuk; quarter — Butchart; halves — Dunsworth, Swail, Chobotuk, Ross.

Alternates are ends — Findlay, Kerr; guards — Parsons, G. Wilson; tackles — Fediuk, F. Wilson, O'Byrne; centre — Paprouki; quarter — Tom Mayson; halves — Enright, Waddell, Denny Smith, Kimbie, Jim Findlay, Steve Mendryk.

Chicago's Kaleta Ends Short Holdout

REGINA, Sept. 28—(CP)—Only player showing signs of a holdout, Alex Kaleta of Canmore, Alta., late Friday night informed Johnny Gottselig, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, now in pre-season training, that he would join the club immediately.

Kaleta, next to Montreal Canadiens' Toe Blake for left wing honors last year, rested at his home for awhile causing his coach much "chagrin." However, that disappointment vanished on word of the ace left winger's decision.

EARLIER FRIDAY president Bill Tobin named five stalwarts who will make up rearguard posts for the team.

The Russian-born coach showed "joy" at the arrival at the nine-day camp Friday of netminder Paul Bibeault from Montreal and forward Bill Mosienko.

FIVE NAMED by owner Tobin are: Johnny Mariucci, Eddie Wares, Reg Hamilton, Ralph Natras and Leo Reise. The latter two were stars with Kansas City Pla-Mors, the Hawks farm club.

The Hawks have added a defenceman to their normal lineup due to the pressure of 16 extra games in the 60-game schedule this season.

NAMING OF THE REST of the team hinged on the reactions of Kaleta whose holdout ease would have gone before league president Clarence Campbell today had the Canmore boy not changed his mind about reporting.

Wingy Johnson, who scored 76 points in 36 games last year for the Pla-Mors is favored for a forward position.

Mineral Taxation Inquiry Is Asked

WINNIPEG, (CP)—A conference of provincial mines ministers here has asked for a royal commission to inquire and examine the field of mineral taxation, it was revealed Friday at the close of a four-day meeting.

The conference said it felt the present form of dominion taxation was too general and not adaptable to the mineral industry as a whole.

Nova Scotia Mines Minister Currie was elected committee chairman for 1947. It was decided to hold the next conference at Halifax.

The meeting recommended that coal should be recognized and declared a national public necessity and that there should be a national coal policy.

Wanna Buy a Shirt? Norway Has Plenty

OSLO, (ONA)—The American trade may be faced with a continuing shortage of shirts, but the day of turning collars and patching cuffs will soon be over for Norwegians, according to officials of the Norwegian Textile Import office. They disclosed that 120,000 new men's shirts would soon arrive from the United States and that contracts had been signed for another 360,000.

Famed Patrol Boat Back from North

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The R.C.M.P. patrol boat, St. Roch, returned here Thursday after an absence of 18 months.

The ship left here in the summer of 1945, under command of Sub-Inspector Larsen, and sailed to Canadian bay, far inside the Arctic circle. Here it served as headquarters for the crew as they patrolled the Arctic by dog-sled. Aboard the St. Roch on the return voyage was Constable A. C. Levens, 25, of Alberta, who had not been "outside" since 1942. His patrols ranged 1,000 miles and took up to 40 days at a stretch.

The 10-man crew reports that Eskimos around Cambridge bay have a grievance against the white men. The common cold was unknown to them before his coming. "They never catch a cold except when an aircraft arrives with the benefits of civilization," said Engineer George Peters of Victora. "We also never had one until we made contact with Operation Muskox, then we all had colds."

Canada to Join in Atlantic Plan For 13 Floating Weather Stations

LONDON, (CP)—An agreement providing for operation of 13 Atlantic weather stations is being prepared for signature at the conference called by the provisional international civil aviation organization.

The agreement calls for establishment of special sea-going stations which will not only make weather observations, but will form part of the general North Atlantic search and rescue service and furnish navigational aids and traffic control facilities when necessary.

The statement said it is hoped the service will be in full operation by July 1. The ships will be manned and controlled by meteorological services of nine participating North Atlantic countries—Belgium, Canada, France, Ireland, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, United Kingdom and the United States.

'Safe' Prisoners Leave for Home

HULL, Eng., (CP)—Five hundred German prisoners of war passed as "politically safe" have sailed from here, the first group of war prisoners to leave under a new repatriation system which favors men of proved democratic views. The men are bound for Cuxhaven, Germany, from whence they will be distributed to their homes.

The prisoners included Cpl. Hans Dinsing, 32, former hotel manager at Duesseldorf, who in 1938 was head waiter at the swank Brussels hotel and who once waited on Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden. One of the jobs he performed as a prisoner was digging in Mr. Churchill's garden at Westerham, Kent.

Eskimo Woman Jailed As Slayer

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The story of a two-year effort to bring an Eskimo murderess to justice was related by one of the passengers on the R.C.M.P. patrol ship St. Roch which docked here Thursday after a hazardous Arctic voyage.

Constable Arthur Levins of Carbon, Alta., trailed the Eskimo woman, Ananglak, after she shot her husband 250 miles from Cambridge bay in October, 1944.

Report of the shooting did not reach Constable Levins until May of the following year and when he reached the scene the woman had gone inland to hunt caribou. He did not track her down until several months later.

Ananglak was tried at Coppermine and was sentenced to one year and nine months' imprisonment which she will serve at R.C.M.P. barracks at Cambridge bay.

Ananglak's sentence for murder was light according to the white man's standards but consideration was given to the fact that many Eskimos are unfamiliar with the white man's laws.

Acknowledges Right To Be Communists

TORONTO. — Jacques Casgrain, Montreal, member of the United Packinghouse Workers of (C.I.O.), said Thursday he told the Canadian Congress of Labor convention in a speech delivered in French Wednesday, that in his union any one could "be to the left" but that he was a Roman Catholic "and I could not be a communist, but if the people of other churches wish to belong to the Communist party, I acknowledge their right to do so."

England has a movement to celebrate Nov. 11 as Remembrance day for both wars, instead of Armistice day for World War I only.

MILWAUKEE STOREKEEPER PLAYS SUMMER SANTA; GIVES STOCK AWAY

YANK MILITARY MIGHT PARADES IN MANILA IN HONOR OF PHILIPPINES

Copyright, 1946, by Acme Newspictures, Inc.

DOUBLE-TROUBLE—These two railroad wrecks occurred near Chicago on the same day, but no one was killed in either one. Seventeen people were injured in the crack-up on the right, however. It occurred near Chicago's Union Station where two suburban trains collided. A few miles west, at Hudson Lake, Ind., ten freight cars were derailed, left.

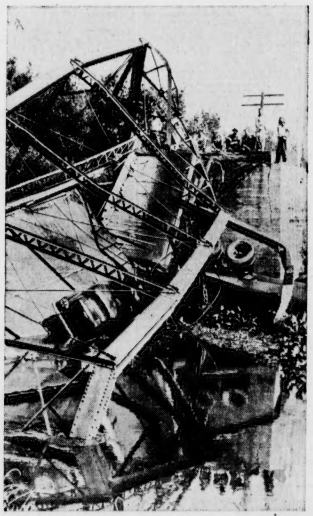

LUCKY BOY—Arlie Trulove, 13, Atlanta, had $1.75 and a burning desire for a new bike. So he went to the Atlanta police auction to see what he could get. For every bike offered, Arlie bid $1.75, was quickly outbid. Then the other customers got the idea, and shut up. Arlie got the last bike auctioned.

UNDER TWO FLAGS—U.S. troops pass in review before General MacArthur, President Roxas and other high ranking officials in Manila during ceremonies marking establishment of the Philippine Republic. Flag, center, is emblem of the new government. "Old Glory" is at left.

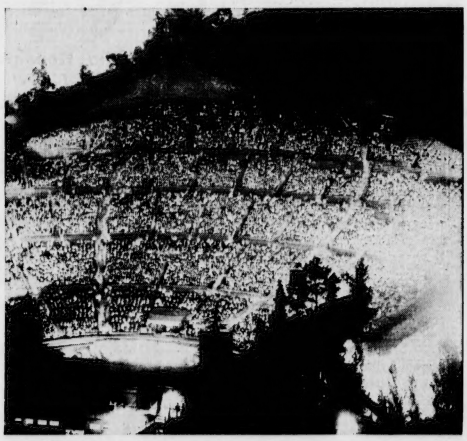

MINUS RED SUIT AND WHISKERS, Eugene Bartelme, proprietor of a Milwaukee, Wis., hobby shop, plays summer Santa to the neighborhood. Business was so bad Bartelme decided to dispose of his stock and gave most of it away to the kids.

HIGHWAY PILEUP—This bridge at Marysville, Calif., collapsed under the weight of a truck and trailer, dumping it into the river below. A motorist drove his automobile through after the truck. Neither of these were hurt, but two motorcyclists that fell through next were injured and hospitalized.

TIGER TOGGERY—Lovely Adele Jergens, Columbia actress, presents a pretty picture as she poses before a Hollywood pool in her tiger-skin bathing suit. Adele's next movie is called "Down to Earth."

SILVER LIGHTS FOR A SILVER ANNIVERSARY—The Hollywood Bowl at Hollywood, Calif., celebrates its 25th anniversary of summer "Symphonies Under the Stars" with a performance of "Carmen." "Carmen" was also the opening program back in 1921.

HUNGER IN AUSTRIA—Food is where you find it in Vienna these days. The man in this UNRRA photo spent his "lunch" hour searching a refuse heap. One can he found was not quite empty, so he gingerly samples the little food left.

NEWEST AMERICAN IN JAPAN—Only reaction of John J. Protopappas, II, to news that he is first American baby born in Japan since the war's end is a bored yawn. Pop is an ex-GI, now with Economic Section of GHQ in Tokyo. Mama was interned by Japs during the war.

PEACEFUL BIKINI LAGOON—Between the bursting of atomic bombs, Bikini lagoon takes on the appearance of a swank resort. Sailors in foreground are drifting off shore while their comrades play lazily on the white sand beach. Water was tested for radioactivity before sailors and civilians on Operations Crossroad were permitted to swim.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION WEEK

Churches of forty Protestant denominations in Canada and the United States will participate next week in the 16th observance of Religious Education Week, during which particular stress will be laid upon the place of religion in the family.

It is axiomatic that religious training must begin in the home, and that unless parents are alive to their responsibilities as moral mentors, the spiritual fabric of the nation cannot remain strong. The reported growth of moral laxity among the young is one reason why religious leaders are seeking to revive such slowly disappearing family practices as recitation of grace at mealtime and the offering of prayers in common before the family retires at night.

It is the duty of parents not only to inform their children during the early years of their lives on matters of Christian teaching, but to encourage them to cultivate habits of virtue, forbearance, fortitude and self-denial that will serve them well in later years and make them co-operative and useful citizens.

In a message endorsing Religious Education Week, John Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned that many parents have failed to meet the task of properly guiding their children through "an era of behaviorism that is vastly different from a century ago." He said this is reflected in the fact that 40 per cent of the burglaries, 30 per cent of the car thieves, 30 per cent of the rapists, 35 per cent of the robbers, and more than 33 per cent of the thieves in 1945 were youngsters under voting age.

"Lack of moral responsibility in a child means in most instances," Mr. Hoover declared, "that parents are indifferent to God and the necessity of religion. If parents want their children to obey the spirit and the letter of the law, and in all ways co-operate in maintaining law and order and to advance the common welfare, they must begin early with religious training in the home circle."

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG!

"It is the common opinion that they who are born out of the Church cannot be saved, because they have not the Word, and thus are ignorant of the Lord without whom there is no salvation. But that these also are saved, may be known from the following considerations: that the Lord's mercy is universal, that is, toward every one; that these are born men equally with those who are within the Church; who are comparatively few; and that it is not their fault that they are ignorant of the Lord."

"All those who have lived in good are of the Lord's mercy received and saved; for good is that which receives truth."

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

Promise of an outstanding choral presentation was contained in the announcement by Leonard Betts, that the Cavendish Choir, of which he is conductor, proposes a performance in March or April of Claude Debussy's lyric poem for solo voices and chorus, "The Blessed Damozel." Although only commencing its third year's activities the Cavendish Choir has taken long strides forward and in tackling the Debussy opus, is setting itself a lofty goal.

"The Blessed Damozel" or "La Damoiselle Elue" drew its text from Gabriel Sarrazin's translation of Dante Gabriel Rossetti's poem of the same name. It was composed in 1887 and 1888 and the version to be used by Mr. Betts is the original one-in English- fitted to the Debussy music by Dr. Frank Damrosch. In his story, Rossetti tells of a girl in Paradise who had a vision of terrestrial love. In his not overly-literal translation Sarrazin eliminated most of the parenthetic passages and the composer in turn lopped off a large portion of the translation.

John Oliver

In the net result the poem as it is set to music is exactly half the length of the original. Rossetti's poem has 24 verses: Debussy's text has 12. Two soprano soloists, the Damozel and a narrator and a female chorus are called for in the score. The original accompaniment was written for orchestra, but a piano reduction is available. This poem, like much of Rossetti's work is somewhat disappointing in that it is not sufficiently mature and sensuous to atone for its deficiency in vigor. Debussy's musical setting is more acceptable than the poem.

Today "The Blessed Damozel" is not rated among the best of Debussy's compositions, yet it is the one that met with unqualified praise from adherents of Cesar Franck, while Franck himself admired it greatly. Ernest Chausson pronounced it a masterpiece and Vincent d'Indy, according to a letter from Debussy to Chausson spoke of it in "terms that would bring a blush to the lilies that lie asleep between the fingers of the Blessed Damozel."

The production by the Cavendish Choir will be its Edmonton premiere and therefore it is an event to be anticipated. Mr. Betts is surveying available talent before making the two solo assignments.

Mrs. Ernest Meaden, manager of the Women's Musical Club Celebrity Series of concerts said today that arrangements have been completed for the first concert, to be given at McDougall United church on Friday Oct. 18 by the Don Cossacks chorus, conducted by Serge Jaroff. Seating has been arranged as nearly as possible in conformance with the plan at the Empire theatre. Subscribers tickets have been placed in the mail. On Monday Mrs. Meaden will open her office at Heintzman and Company's store where mail orders for the first concert will be received. She pointed out that this is an "extra" or "added" concert and it will be included in the regular series. Thus, subscribers who desire to attend, must obtain tickets specially for the occasion.

In revising the seating, Mrs. Meaden found that McDougall has seats less in front of the platform than the Empire. Thus many who had hoped for seats cannot be accommodated. There are 84 seats available in the choir loft and they will be sold as "reserved-rush" seats for each individual concert.

Four new scholarships for young pianists in this province have been inaugurated by the Toronto Conservatory of Music. They will enable students to continue under their own teachers and will be awarded automatically to candidates receiving the highest marks—at least 80 percent—in the 1947 local examinations conducted by the conservatory.

Similar scholarships offered by the Toronto Conservatory are available for piano students in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The scholarships are listed as follows: Grades three and four, $25; Grades five and six, $30; Grades seven and eight, $35; Grades nine and ten, $40. One scholarship will be given in each group.

On Friday evening, Oct. 4, an opportunity will be available, to sit in on a practical demonstration of the work being accomplished by the Western Board of Music. At Convocation Hall there will be a recital by board candidates for scholarships and awards, and at the same time there will be a ceremony for the presentation of scholarships, bursaries, prizes, medals and diplomas. At the same time, a similar event for the southern part of the province will take place at the Institute of Technology, Calgary. This year is the first in which the Western Board has awarded diplomas in this province, a feat which reflects infinite credit on all concerned in view of the fact that it was not until the chair of music was established at the University of Alberta a year ago that the board commenced intensive work on the venture which will see its first fruits on Oct. 4.

Members of the Allegro section of the Alberta Music Teachers association will sponsor recitals at the public library at 3:00 p.m. on Oct. 13 and 27, of students who scored high marks at the Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations held here last June. Programs are being drafted.

In a year 22-year-old Oscar Peterson has risen from an obscure Montreal pianist to the position as Canada's outstanding jazz piano artist. He's coming to Edmonton on Thursday, Oct. 3, in his first western Canadian tour, and will be appearing at Northwest Air Command drill hall.

Russian Zone of Germany Works in Soviet Interests

By Frank Swansoh

LONDON.— The Soviet zone of Germany is rapidly becoming one of the leading Russian satellite production grounds whose vast manpower and industrial machinery is working almost entirely in the interests of Russia.

This is the sober assessment of the position in the eastern zone of occupied Germany of most observers who have visited the area in recent months, and is substantiated Friday in a searching examination of what is happening on the other side of "the iron curtain" by the Times' Berlin correspondent.

The decision to order an investigation into the organization of industry in the Russian zone shows, according to best estimates, that apart from food, 70 percent of the current industrial production is being taken as reparations from the eastern zone and that a large part of the remaining 30 percent is being used by the Soviet army of occupation.

Remove Industrial Capacity

It is believed, he goes on to estimate, that more than half of the total industrial capacity of the zone has been removed already through the systematic policy of transfer from the zone into the Soviet.

Picture which emerges from his study of what is happening on the other side of the border separating the eastern and western zones shows the Soviet zone working almost entirely for Russian interests. But he adds, industrial organization of the zone still has the appearance of not being finally fixed, and here and there signs of improvisation and tension between conflicting Russian interests can be seen.

Methods of the control of the sprawling zone's huge industrial potential are threefold, he says. Control is exercised by the headquarters of the Soviet zonal administration; directly from Moscow and through the recently formed Soviet Industrial corporation. Corporation control is regarded as an interim measure since the majority of factories now in production are earmarked for dismantling and movement to Russia, but are being operated temporarily as their present location as a more profitable form of production.

Govern Each Industry

Industrial corporation acts as a holding company for factories it controls. It works through a series of joint Russian and German industrial associations, each governing one industry. Textiles, chemicals, engineering, solid fuel and public utilities are known to come within the scope of these associations.

As the Times correspondent points out, industry in the Russian zone is kept going almost entirely by imports from Russia of raw materials. But Germany gets little out of it. Part of the goods manufactured from these imports returns to Russia. The remainder, estimated at less than half of the total production, is allocated to the Russian zone. Part of this allocation goes to the Germans of the zone but it is known that the bulk finds its way back to the Soviet. According to some estimates, the amount reaching the Germans is no more than one-twentieth of the total.

Half Removed

It is estimated that more than half of the total industrial capacity of the zone has been removed by the Russians although the full extent of dismantling is not known. Under the terms of the Potsdam agreement, it's left pretty well up to the Russians to name their own figure for reparations from their own zone, and it's under this clause that such wholesale reparations have been carried out.

The significance of Russia's actions in their zone of occupation has not been lost on the remainder of the occupying powers, but they are going steadily forward with the idea of getting their zones back on an economically stable basis so that the German nation won't be a drag on the rest of the world.

Australia Election Is No Guide to N.Z.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., (CP)—Saturday's general election in Australia will not be any sure guide to the result of the coming New Zealand election, though both elections are for the same purpose—whether the present socialist governments should be retained. This New Zealand election is scheduled for Nov. 27.

There are many differences between the situation in the two countries. Labor has been in power much longer in New Zealand than in Australia, and the people have had a fuller exposition of the Socialist problem.

The voting system in the two dominions is different and this has led to a different political set up. The issues are more simple and direct in New Zealand where there are only two major parties.

No Preferential Voting

Simple majority voting is used in New Zealand, so that as in Canada no matter how many candidates stand for any seat the one with most votes is elected whereas preferential voting is used in Australia. Hence, New Zealand has tended to gravitate more to supporting two main parties, Labor and National.

The effects of this were shown by the coalescence of the right and centre parties during the depression of the '30s and the gradual elimination of independents and minor party members from the house of representatives.

Senate Is Appointment

There will be no election for the upper house. As in Canada this is an entirely appointed body, its members nominated by the government.

Coincident with the election, a poll will be held on the liquor issue. Electors will be asked to vote for continuance of the present liquor system operated by private firms, total prohibition, or state purchase and control.

To carry prohibition, this option must have an absolute majority over the total of the other two. The prohibition vote has been decreasing at recent elections.

Find Indian Guilty Of Manslaughter

LONDON, Ont., (CP) — After two hours' deliberation, an Ontario supreme court jury Friday found Leslie Hill, 21-year-old Mohawk Indian of Brantford, guilty of manslaughter in the slaying of his young bride of two weeks. He will be sentenced Oct. 2.

Hill's wife, Kathleen, died of a knife wound in the throat May 13 on the doorstep of her parents' home on an Indian reserve near here. In a statement admitted as evidence, Hill said he stabbed her during a quarrel.

Norman E. Lickers of Brantford, an Indian lawyer, pleaded for leniency. He said Hill was brought up with little parental guidance but had no previous criminal record.

Ready to Remove Ceilings if Asked

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Roy L. Thompson said Saturday the price decontrol board will "act promptly" if it gets an official appeal for removal of meat ceilings in the United States—but he doesn't expect one before November. As for the current meat shortage, Mr. Thompson predicted it will continue for "some time."

Staple Foods in Abundance Though Soap, Lard Are Short

TORONTO, (CP)—Canadians can count on eating well next winter, a survey showed Saturday. Across the land, abundant crops of practically al staple foods give promise that no one need go hungry and that many sections will have more than enough for family dinner tables.

That's the overall picture, but it has darker aspects. Shortages of such articles as lard and soap continue to dog the housewife, rationing of sugar and preserves, butter and meat remains in effect and in many cities temporary shortages of various foodstuffs develop from time to time.

The limited quantity of canning sugar and the difficulty of obtaining sealers restricted women who otherwise could have filled cellar cupboards with jars of appetizing preserves and pickles.

Expect More Shortening

Merchants blame the shortage on panic buying, lack of salt and bottle scarcity on strikes. Shortening, vital ingredient in flaky pie crust, is expected to be more plentiful in about three weeks thanks to the arrival of whale oil shipments from the Argentine.

Bountiful crops made vegetables plentiful. Many families in season crowd display racks. Their abundance is reflected in the appearance of large quantities of canned vegetables. Prices generally on fruit and vegetables are about the same as last year, lower in some lines.

Hotels and restaurants say fall reduction of tourist traffic, together with the good harvest, eased their food problems.

Salmon Scarce

Except in some rural areas, pork continues scarce. Canned salmon is hard to get as are jelly powders, corn starch and laundry starch, pepper (the real thing) and some lines of fruit juices.

Orchards in all parts of Canada yielded abundantly. Nova Scotia's 1,600,000 barrels of apples compared with 362,000 last year. Production in British Columbia's famous Okanagan orchards was well up and the Niagara peninsula of Ontario sent forth vast quantities of peaches and grapes.

Winnipeg finds poultry scarce and expects shortages of potatoes, onions and carrots but most other vegetables and all cereals are in good supply. It has a shortage also of fish but prices are high. Main shortages are peanut butter, sugar, cheese, shortening and lard.

Farmers Strike Costly

A farmers' delivery strike has left Edmonton and Northern Alberta points short of pork, eggs and dairy products although reports indicate that there is generally plenty of food this year. Lard, raisins, canned tomatoes, coconut, cooked ham, mixed nuts, currants and some lines of breakfast foods are short. Canned corn is starting to appear. Saskatchewan officials still wait with harvests, predict substantial yields. Difficulty of obtaining sufficient sugar has hampered canners' plans to can abundant supplies of fruit. Pork products, corn starch, jelly powders and pepper are scarce but apricots and raisins, missing last year, are available in Regina and other communities.

Maritimes Well Off

Foodstuffs, both home-grown and imported, are plentiful throughout the maritime provinces. Farmers harvested good crops of fruit and vegetables.

Nova Scotia has no scarcities of note except butter but prices run higher than last year.

Prince Edward Island, normally a specialized growing area, recorded a drop in production in some lines this year but expects no shortages.

Plentiful supplies of fresh vegetables reflect New Brunswick's fall harvest. Quality and quantity are approximately the same as a year ago, prices slightly higher.

Peterson Concert Changed to Oct. 3

Because of changes in his eastern itinerary Oscar Peterson, the Prince of the Piano, will be in Edmonton Thursday Oct. 3 instead of Oct. 8 as previously announced.

The youthful jazz pianist from Montreal will be playing as guest artist at a dance at Northwest Air Command drill hall on Kingsway. He will appear with Bob McMullin and his orchestra. This band will soon be be perfoasr regularly in the Trocadero night club.

Peterson's fans shouldn't find any inconvenience in the advanced date. It means they'll not have to wait as long to hear the music he makes on the eighty-eight.

Angry Tyrolean Attack Minister

INNSBRUCK, Austria, (Reuters) —An angry crowd of Tyroleans Friday night assailed Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian foreign affairs minister, in this French zone city. They spat at him and called him "traitor."

Dr. Gruber, who recently negotiated an agreement with Italy under which Austria renounces her claim to the South Tyrol territory's autonomous, defended himself vigorously, knocking down a man who tried to punch him.

Eye-witnesses alleged that police did not intervene to defend the minister.

PAY INCREASES GIVEN

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Pay-scale increases ranging from five to 15 cents an hour for building laborers in Vancouver have been approved by the regional war labor board and are in effect, it was announced Friday by William Backerville, business agent of the Building Laborers' union (A.F.L.).

Gets 3 Months For Calgary Theft

CALGARY, (CP)—Frank H. Saunders was sentenced in police court Thursday to three months with hard labor for the theft of a radio, electric razor, suitcase and articles of clothing from Earl Meyer, his roommate in a Calgary hotel, Sept. 12.

The court was informed that after stealing the articles, Saunders sold the radio and then went to Vancouver, where he disposed of the remainder. He returned to Calgary, Sept. 22, and gave himself up to police.

Police said Saunders would be escorted from Lethbridge jail to Calgary to give evidence at the forthcoming murder trial of Donald Sherman Staley. Saunders testified at the preliminary inquiry that he and Staley had roomed together in Calgary for approximately three weeks before Staley was arrested Aug. 12.

Veteran War Flier Just "Hi, Freshie" At the University

First member of the RCAF to enter Germany in the Second World War and former commanding officer of an "Oboe" convoy station in Germany for the RAF, Arthur Craig of 10217 114 street, will just be "Hi, Freshie!" to sophomores and upper classmen from today onward, as he commences his lectures in electrical engineering at the University of Alberta.

ARTHUR CRAIG

ENGAGED IN what was during the war, top secret work in precision bombing, he is now free to talk of work that took him from England to Normandy, to Belgium and finally to Germany before the collapse of Germany and the victory of the Allies.

Newly-released information on the "oboe" system of bombing, indicates the system was one of the leading factors in the securing of a conclusion to hostilities and victory.

MR. CRAIG enlisted in the RCAF Sept. 5, 1941 and after a year in Canada, went to England where he was attached to the RAF for radar training. He was attached to the RAF all during the remainder of his service career.

Following closely the progress of the Allied armies in their invasion of Nazi-held Europe, he went as a radar officer to Europe at the time of the Normandy invasion and remained on the continent for more than a year.

He service in France, in Belgium during the Battle of the Bulge in the Ardennes section, and then finally into Germany before the cessation of hostilities and the capitulation of Germany. His station was first established at Wurzug, between Frankfurt and Nuernberg, and then several months later, at Wilhelmshaven.

OF THE accuracy of the "oboe" system, Mr. Craig said that it was accurate to within 1.7 yards of the target, and that it represented the ultimate up until that time, in precision aerial blind bombing.

Information being currently released says that it assured success in bombing and that seconds after the release of bombs over Germany, the accuracy of the aim could be recorded in underground operations rooms 300 miles away from the target.

THE LITTLE gadget known as "oboe" was developed by RAF radar experts, and it was proved to be more accurate in bombing through a cloud bank when the target could not possibly be seen than bombing by daylight by ordinary visual means, even when the bomb aimer could see the target and have plenty of time to calculate wind-speed and direction.

Its accuracy was such that the range of an aircraft 300 miles away from the ground station could be fixed to within a few yards or even feet.

FOR THE ATTACK the exact distance between the selected target and radar station, in yards, was calculated. The bombers after reaching the vicinity of the target then flew a long are, remaining always the same distance from the radar transmitter in England known as the "cat" station. In his earphones, the pilot received signals which told him when he was over a few yards off course. As the bomber neared the aiming point, signals could direct the bomb-aimer up to the exact second for him to release his bombs.

"Oboe" was used, also, to guide the RAF Pathfinder squadrons, which dropped flares to guide the Lancasters on their way in, massed air attacks on enemy targets.

Annual Rhodes Scholarship Awards to be Continued

Annual award of Rhodes scholarships is being continued this year by the offering for competition of the normal 10 scholarships it was announced Saturday by Ronald Martland, KC, secretary of the Alberta Rhodes Scholarship Committee.

THESE SCHOLARSHIPS, established under the will of Cecil Rhodes were first awarded in Canada in 1904. From that date 358 Canadians, including 41 whose scholarships interrupted by the war, and 20 who were appointed last year, have been beneficiaries. The total number elected from all parts of the English-speaking world, up to 1940, was 2,190, of whom about half were British, and half from the United States.

The scholarships are tenable at Oxford University, England, and are of a normal value of 400 pounds. However, living costs have necessitated temporary additional grants to bring this sum up to 500 pounds, subject to certain grants in the case of scholars who are in receipt of educational grants from the department of veterans affairs.

CROWDED CONDITIONS at Oxford have made it necessary for the Trustees to revert, at least for this year, to the normal number of 10 scholarships. These will be open for competition by both services candidates who have had at least one year of service in the armed forces, or other war service which is approved by the trustees, and to ordinary candidates who have not had such service.

The age limit for service candidates has been extended, so that they may qualify if they are between 19 or 25 years at any time from October 1939 to the date of application. Furthermore they are not disqualified by marriage, and need have completed one year of work at a Canadian University prior to the time of application.

ORDINARY CANDIDATES must have passed their 19th birthday, but not have passed their 25th birthday by Oct. 1, 1946. They must be unmarried, and have completed two years at a Canadian university by Oct. 1, 1946.

All candidates must be male British subjects, with at least five years of permanent residence in Canada. Two scholarships will be awarded in Ontario, two in Quebec, and one each in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan. Candidates may apply either in the province in which they reside or the one in which they took their university work. Prince Edward Island candidates have the latter choice, or may apply for New Brunswick or Nova Scotia awards.

APPLICATIONS for these scholarships must be made to the secretary of the proper provincial selection committee not later than Nov. 10, 1946, and the appointments will be made in December.

All Citizens Urged To Aid Chest Drive

Every citizen of Edmonton will have an opportunity next week of helping to make his city a real community not just a collection of houses and stores. The Community Chest will launch a three-week drive, commencing Monday, with the hope of raising $225,000. Contributions will be turned into food and shelter for the needy and to help make sturdy bodies for growing children.

IN ADDITION to its usual running expenses, the chest is asking this year for additional contributions to undertake repairs and replacements for many of its member agencies—the YWCA, the Salvation Army and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Canvassers will wear a red feather, as a symbol of service.

Close to 1,000 Edmonton women have volunteered to act as canvassers in the essential areas. Teams have been arranged under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Cora T. Casselman.

FOR THE ALBERTA Protestant Children's Home, the convener is Mrs. William Mowat; for All People's Mission, Mrs. J. T. Stephens; Beulah Home, Mrs. Purdy; M. Finlay; Board of the Canadian Girls in Training, Miss Mary Livingstone; Catholic Women's League, Mrs. P. H. Gaboury and Mrs. H. Dearing; the Church of England diocesan council, Mrs. H. F. Douglas; the Edmonton Creche, Mrs. G. H. N. Monkman; the Council of Social Agencies, Miss H. S. Bishop; Girl Guides, Mrs. P. A. Rooney; the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. C. F. Thompson; the Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. B. Ostry and Mrs. H. Wener; the Salvation Army, Mrs. R. Rayner; St. John Ambulance, Mrs. Carrie Holmberg; the Victorian Order of Nurses, Mrs. A. Sherrette; the Young Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Kent Hughes.

Veterans to Get Priorities For Building Materials

Top priorities on building materials in short supply will be given to approximately 400 Edmonton veterans, whose homes are in the class of 50 per cent completion, so as to expedite their completion before winter. This announcement was made Saturday by George Prudham, chairman of the priorities advisory committee, following a meeting in the Corona hotel Friday.

OFFICIALS of the department of reconstruction and supply in Ottawa, have pledged assistance in obtaining such building materials as are not available locally, but it was stressed that immediate delivery of some items might be delayed because of strikes.

Mr. Prudham said that it was likely that a great number of items will be made available without waiting for priority shipments, due to the co-operation being shown by members of the building industry in the city, and their offer to pool existing stocks with a view to supplying veterans' needs. It is hoped that materials will begin to flow within the next fortnight.

A SYSTEM of individual registration has been planned, under which a qualifying veteran will receive a form asking him to specify his retail outlets in order that supplies can be checked by the retailer as they are delivered to the veteran. This will avoid dangers of duplication.

It should be stressed, Mr. Prudham stated, that veterans registering under this priority scheme, must name their contractors, all sub-contractors and supply houses. This is necessary to channel supplies from manufacturer to home owner.

THE COMMITTEE will continue to function as long as its services are considered necessary to complete the housing program. Veterans are urged to obtain a form from LVA without delay.

To Appoint Election Staff

A start will be made on Monday to appoint deputy returning officers and poll clerks for the Nov. 6 municipal election, city clerk George S. Docherty stated Saturday.

He said that the 60 city polls would be subdivided into 181 split polls and that approximately 400 officials would be needed to complete the election machinery. A number of vacancies are still to be filled and applications for deputy returning officers and poll clerks are being accepted at the Civic Block.

Mr. Docherty stated that the location of all polls has now been determined, and these will be submitted for confirmation in the near future to the special Committee of city council on elections.

Electors whose names do not appear on the voters' lists will have the opportunity to have their names added when the court of revision gets underway starting Oct. 10 and continuing through to Oct. 20.

Co-Ops. Oppose Tax Plan

Unanimous opposition to the present tax set-up as it affects co-operatives, was voiced at a meeting of all major co-operatives in Alberta held at the Legislative buildings Friday afternoon. The meeting was called to review recent amendments to the Income War Tax Act and J. Russell Love was chairman.

THE MEETING further instructed the committee to continue the campaign to have the objectionable features removed at the next session of parliament.

Further the meeting was unanimously opposed to the principle of placing the people's co-operatives on the same basis as profit-making corporations and taxing the savings made through co-operation.

The calling of a western conference for the purpose of consolidating plans to continue pressing for removal of unjust features of the taxation legislation passed at the recent session of the House of Commons, was favored at the meeting.

Speakers were Marsh Porter, Calgary, J. E. Brownlee, KC, Gordon McClary, CA, and F. J. Fitzpatrick, supervisor of co-operatives in the province.

CO-OPERATIVES represented include the Alberta Wheat Pool, the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool, UFA central executive, Alberta Federation of Agriculture, Alberta Poultry Producers, Southern Alberta Co-operative, Alberta Co-operative Wholesale, Alberta Seed Growers Association, Southern Alberta Dairy Pool, Federated Co-operatives and the Pincher Creek Co-operative.

London Hostess RCAF Officers Renews Acquaintances in City

BY KAY FORD

Montreal-born Mrs. Leonard Hancock, of London, Eng., the former Miss Helen Robertson, who turned her own home into London's first RCAF officers' club, was a visitor in Edmonton Thursday, a guest of officers at Northwest Air Command.

THREE WEEKS isn't long to become re-acquainted with several hundred old friends, but in that time Mrs. Hancock is seeing again many former RCAF officers she entertained during the war at her home in Cadogan Square. And she is meeting some of the mothers of the boys who did not come back.

She has been visiting in Montreal and Toronto, where she was feted by members of the RCAF who visited her in England. Vancouver was visited as well as Banff.

EDMONTON is one city she feels she knows already through her numerous friends in the famed "City of Edmonton" squadron.

In 1942 Mrs. Hancock turned her home into a club where air force officers could spend their leaves while in London. Eventually she acquired the house next door and the two provided sleeping-quarters for 50. During the four years the club was in operation more than 10,000 Canadians enjoyed her hospitality.

Travelling with Mrs. Hancock is her daughter, Miss Anne Hancock. Mrs. Hancock's eldest son, Flt.-Lt. Sydney Johnston, RAF, was killed in World War II, and another son, John Hancock serving with the British Army and a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hancock, who is in London with her father. Anne was a member of the RCAF (WD).

THE CLUB, which was opened in July 1942 closed in February 1946. Mrs. Hancock and her family will return to live in the house in Cadogan Square.

The visitors left for Ottawa and Montreal and in three weeks will sail for England.

Thursday afternoon officers of Northwest Air Command held a reception in their mess for Mrs. Hancock and her daughter.

Jorgens, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jorgens of Calgary. The Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull performed the ceremony. Miss Ruth Cullerne sang Because, during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory Connaught satin gown fashioned with full gored skirt having a miniature bustle in the back and a draped peplum front. The bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and lace-trimmed lily point sleeves. There were lace insertions in the front hemline. Her long veil was held in place with a coronet of lace and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white gardenias. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

MATRON-OF-HONOR was Mrs. Robert Bruce Hunter, who wore a gown of rose crepe and flowers in her hair to match her bouquet of blue bachelor buttons. Bridesmaids were the Misses Marian Duncan and Muriel Macdonald. The former wore yellow cut crepe and the latter blue cut crepe. Both wore flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of rose carnations.

Best man was Jack Timmins, of Calgary, and ushering the guests to pews marked with satin ribbon and sweetpeas were Robert Freeze and Edward MacKintosh, both of Calgary.

Mrs. Duke chose for her daughter's wedding a grey crepe dress with fuchsia accessories and a corsage of fuchsia gladioluses. Mrs. Jorgens, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue ensemble complemented with midnight blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

AFTER THE ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held at the Macdonald hotel, where the bride's table was set with a linen cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Rose clarkia and gladioluses decorated the table, which was lighted with ivory tapers. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Norman Duke and Mrs. Henry Hugill of Calgary. Dr. W. G. Hardy proposed the bridal toast.

The couple left for a honeymoon at Yellowstone National Park Seattle and Spokane and later will live here. For travelling the bride wore a three-piece checked wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Alberta and a member of Kappa Apha Theta and the bridegroom is a graduate of the university and affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Whirl of Activities Keeps Co-Eds 'On the Go' in First Week at University

Miss Maimie Simpson, newly-appointed adviser to women students, chats with freshettes in the university Wauneita room during freshman registration at the university this week. Ila Moen, of Tofield, is to the right of Miss Simpson; and Vera Walters, of Edmonton, at the left.

In addition to her position as adviser, Miss Simpson is an associate professor of education at the university and will spend many hours of the day lecturing. Her office, in St. Stephen's college, is open to all the girls whenever they wish to come and see her and she is always ready to help them with any difficulties they may encounter.

Shown outside the Normal school building are a few of the ex-servicewomen who are attending university this term. From left to right: Barbara Leard, formerly of the C.W.A.C.; Una Lewis, a former member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.); Margery Lee, of the W.R.C.N.S.; Margery Baillie, R.C.A.F. (W.D.); Nancy Alton (the only second year student in the picture), formerly of the Wrens; and Marg. Oliver, formerly of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.). Two of the girls are enrolled in education; one is taking pharmacy, and the rest are Arts students.—ALL PHOTOGRAPHS ON THIS PAGE BY WILLIAM KENSIT.

Bewildered 'Frosh' Find Campus Life Hectic 'Merry-Go-Round'

By Jane Becker

A strange, vast campus, studded with bright, saucy signs and thousands of suave seniors. Long, dreary line-ups you stand in for hours without seeming to get anywhere. A mass of papers and forms to fill out. A smoky Tuck shop where you down coffee or coke in your few off moments, feeling very small and insignificant in the midst of all the newness. Then, to put the finishing touch to a bewildering week, your first two days of lectures, and more long line-ups: at the bookstore.

And to top it all, thinks the freshman, comes some "introduction committee," to further propel you into "campus life" and to completely confound you in a network of social activities.

The first day, for instance, while last year's freshmen gleefully tied a bonnet becomingly under his chin, he was invited to go on a campus tour (beautiful co-eds as guides).

That evening he went to a smoker, where he was given cigarettes and things to eat and heard talks by university and student officials. At the same time the Wauneita society took the girls for a hike. Shivering together, they met one another, informally, and were all more or less friendly by the time the evening was over.

Most of the freshmen staged their activities off the campus Tuesday night, when a pep rally for the football team, the Golden Bears, was arranged at Renfrew park. Fireworks went off as the students shouted themselves almost voiceless; and afterwards they snake-danced through downtown streets, attracting the attention of many, and the ire of some.

Hundreds of freshettes came for tea to Pembina hall on the campus, Wednesday afternoon, where they were greeted by Mrs. Robert Newton, wife of the president of the university, Mrs. J. L. Morrison, and Miss Lillian Gehrke of the Wauneitas.

At the tea table Miss Simpson and Miss Constance MacFarlane, the warden of Pembina hall poured tea. Freshettes also had a chance to meet Mrs. P. S. Warren, wife of the university provost.

That evening some 600 students went on a hayride, sponsored by the Outdoor club and arranged by its president, Hugh Blue, and Robert Walker.

Thursday the frosh tea-danced, at a function arranged in the Normal school gym. They met each other through tag dances, and bingos, and by means of a pop-drinking contest through baby nipples, fed to the boys by the girls.

By Friday all the new students were ready for lectures.

But Saturday they put it all aside for a moment. An afternoon football game at Clarke Stadium demanded their presence—and cheering—when the Golden Bears met the Calgary juniors in the season's first encounter.

And in the evening there was the mixer dance, the high point of the week where you got to know many more people and to know better the ones you met casually. After the dance, you went home, convinced beyond doubt that either it had been a wonderful week or that it had been horrid and hectic, only probably things would improve and soon there would be work and not this silly pish-posh to occupy your time.

But whatever way you looked at it, it had been an event: a part of the tradition of the university, and you wouldn't ever completely forget the signs on the campus, or the "sophisticates," in their second year who made you feel so uncomfortable by trying to make you feel comfortable, or the long line-ups, or Tuck, or the first day of lectures.

You might forget the people who worked to give you this week: the Introduction Committee. Headed by Colin Murray, it included: Tevie Miller, Norma Howard, Margaret Weir, Lillian Gehrke, Jeanne Gauld, Dick Sherbaniuk, Robert Rosser, Horace Hierlihy, Howard Irvine, Ralph Rookwood, and Murray Stewart.

Jeanne Gauld, of the University Wauneita society, puts a bonnet becomingly on freshette Joyce Morris, right, of Edmonton. Joyce enrolled in household economics at the university early this week. Her two companions, Amelia Randle, of High River, left, and Nancy Jean York, of Kimberly, B.C., centre, are more interested in the freshman handbook. All three girls are first year household economics students.

Above are some of the energetic campus co-eds who have been working hard making freshettes feel at home during their first week at university. Miss Lillian Gehrke, centre, front, is president of the Wauneita society and other members of the society are Miss Terry McCarthy, junior representative, front row, left; Miss Lois Neilson, secretary-treasurer, front row, right; and back row, left Miss Jeanne Gauld sophomore representative; and Miss Peggy Taylor, back row, right, senior representative. Not shown is Miss Margaret Hunter, vice-president of the society.

Elaine Forbes, a second year arts student from Drumheller, extreme right, smiles as she shows a group of freshettes the campus from the steps of the Arts building. She is taking the girls on a tour of the campus, a popular feature of freshman introduction week arranged by the introduction committee.

Three freshettes at the University of Alberta join the Wauneita society as Julia Hrapko, Eleanor McDermid and Margery Rowbotham sign forms for student officials. The scene is the Arts common room, where new students were given a bewildering number of booklets, cards and forms to fill in during the two days of registration.

Value Is Seen In Vet - Training

Training being given veterans today is the only major approach on a national scale, to adult education, according to A. A. Aldridge, supervisor of training with the department of veterans affairs. Mr. Aldridge made this statement in an address to members of the Optimist club at a luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel Thursday. He went on to say that the cultural effect of the training being given veterans at the present time, will repay the country many times over for the investment put into it.

Dillworth Still Sought by Police

William Dillworth, who escaped from custody at Edmonton's police station on Wednesday of last week, failed to answer in supreme court Friday when called to plead in the breaking entering charge against him.

Guy Patterson, KC., asked that the bondsman be asked "to deliver the body of the accused," but did not request that the $2,000 bail be estreated.

H. L. SPANKIE, council for Dillworth, and also representing the bondsman, an Edmonton widow asked for time to produce Dillworth. He told the court he had been assured by police officials that Dillworth's arrest was pending.

Harvey Cassavant, jointly charged with Dillworth of the breaking and entering room eight 0614 10th avenue with Dillworth, to steal, went on trail on the charge Friday afternoon.

Robert McGrath, Lewis N. Alywin, Kenneth Myers and Ralph Ross who were to have been sentenced on their guilty plea to breaking and entering the Bayley-Seaman branch and stealing $33,000 in bonds, currency and stamps were further remanded until Friday, Oct. 4.

League Plans Activities

Re-organization meeting of the Central Community League was held last night in McDougall school for the purpose of discussing and planning community activities for the coming season.

It was pointed out by Past President A. P. Aitken, that the young people of the district were definitely in need of proper recreational facilities, particularly a skating rink.

A committee was appointed to investigate the mater of securing a permanent site for a rink and playground which, in time, would be built into a community centre.

Officers elected included, Earle Dickie, president; Bart Russell, vice-president; and Mrs. C. E. Lee, secretary treasurer. A membership and athletic committee was also elected.

Plans were made for a membership drive which is to get underway in the latter part of next week.

Issue More Home Permits

A total of 55 home-building permits were taken out during September to date to bring the total for the year to 1,409 with a cumulative value of $5,744,525. Value of permits issued during September was $209,300. Last year the number of permits for the period Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 totalled 1,100, and their value was $3,836,212.

To date this year the total of permits issued was $11,500,000 which is approximately $2,500,000 behind the estimated $14,000,000 for the year. Home-building permits are just 91 short of the 1,500 estimated for the city in 1946.

An official of the Edmonton Builders' Exchange estimated that at least $5,000,000 of general construction work scheduled for this year has had to be postponed because of labor and material shortages. He estimated also that at least a further 200 to 300 homes would have been erected here if the supply situation had been normal.

Only 66,000 Get Series Tickets

BOSTON, Sept. 28—(AP)—There were 66,000 grins and a half-million groans all over New England yesterday as the mail-man distributed world series tickets—and to sorry!" notes.

With capacity of Fenway Park only 34,000, upwards of a 500,000 clamored for seats at Boston's first world series in 28 years.

Almost immediately with the distribution of tickets, the speculators' market was reported on the rise. Favorite stories concerned fabulous prices paid for a pair of ducats. The average appeared to be about $50 for two $6 grand-stand seats—though some lucky holders were reported asking as high as $100.

$13,700 Damages Sought in Action

Damages totalling $13,700 are sought in a statement of claim filed Friday by the law firm of Hawe, Anzier, Bryans, and Macleod on behalf of Fred H. Blanchard, Edmonton plasterer for injuries received when lumber piled at M. D. Muttart Ltd., yards fell on him.

IT IS ALLEGED in the claim that the lumber was "improperly, carelessly and negligently piled." The plaintiff had visited the defendant's yards to make purchases of material.

The statement of claim sates that as a result of his injuries received on Sept. 26, 1944 he suffered a fractured right ankle, and as a result of the injury developed three pulmonary emboli and has been, and still is, under medical care.

SINCE THE occurrence the plaintiff was incapacitated for a period of 10 months, and since July 1945 has only been able to work part time, and do very light work.

He is seeking $700 for hospital and medical expences, $3,000 for loss of wages, and $10,000 general damages.

Make Date Now to Winterize Plumbing

The birds are gathering to fly south . . . and wise householders are preparing now for home comfort in the cold months ahead. Not only the heating system but the plumbing, too, should be checked by a competent plumber.

Many homes have a "cold" bathroom that a litte insulation will fix. Few homes have sufficient insulation in pipes, particularly the pipes carrying hot water to sinks and lavatories. And many a householder has waited until freeze up or later to turn to the shut off valve on outside faucets only to find them inoperable through rust or other deterioration or damage.

Remember, that all these things cost less to fix before an emergency arises than later after the damage has been done. Get your plumber to check over your plumbing system now so that when cold weather comes you are prepared and ready. Its cheap insurance against heavy bills and discomfort later.

Jack Turns Down Fight for Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 28-(AP)-The New York State Athletic Commission Friday offered Beau Jack a fight with Ray Robinson to decide on a new welterweight champion, but the Beau refused and countered with the suggestion that the commission award the title to Ray immediately, without further argument.

The 147-pound crown has been vacant since Marty Servo announced his retirement from the ring a few days ago because of a nose injury.

Jack, former world lightweight champion, announced through his manager, Chick Wergeles, that he was turning down a bout with Robinson at this time because of his lack of experience among welterweights.

Gives St. Louis Better Chance

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28-(AP)-World series odds announced Friday by betting commissioner James J. Carroll gave St. Louis Cardinals a better chance than Brooklyn Dodgers against Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox will be favorites against either national league team.

If the Cardinals win the pennant, they will be 2-1 and the Red Sox 2-5. This means that $1 bet on the Cards would win $2, while it would take a $5 wager on the Red Sox to win $2. Should Brooklyn win the Dodgers would be 11-5 and the Red Sox 5-13.

Ben Hogan Leads Rich Dallas Open

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 28-(AP)-Little Ben Hogan, United States golfdom's leading connoisseur of cash awards, weathered a storm of competition Friday for the lead at the halfway mark in the $10,000 Dallas open championship.

Hogan skimmed over the treacherous par-70 Brook Hollow course in a 69 for a 36-hole total of 139 strokes.

Right behind the PGA champ was Dallas' Harry Todd whose 34-35 69—gave him a second with 140.

Plans for an intensive publicity campaign to create public interest in a progressive program for the beautification of Edmonton were tentatively approved at a meeting of the Civic Betterment Committee held Thursday at the Civic Block under the chairmanship of E. T. Love.

It was proposed to hold a contest for school children to supply a slogan for the campaign, and also to enlist the pupils in active participation in the project.

23 Die, 80 Hurt In Indian Riots

BOMBAY, (CP) — Twenty-three persons were killed and approximately 80 others injured during communal rioting in Indian cities, casualty reports said Friday night.

In Agra, site of the Taj- Mahal, 13 were killed and 50 injured in a Hindu-Moslem riot touched off by the stoning of a Hindu religious procession Thursday. Three of the deaths were caused when a retired military officer fired on an angry mob.

The home minister in Agra said, however, that the situation now was under control.

Control of Atomic Energy 'Feasible,' Commission Says

By Clyde Blackburn

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP) — United Nations atomic commission scientists Saturday published an exhaustive report in which they declared there was no apparent reason why effective control of atomic energy is not "technologically feasible."

They warned, however, that by surreptitious diversion of nuclear fuels from storage or from plants of origin it would be possible, in a short time and with little equipment, for highly-skilled technicians quickly to make atomic bombs.

"The danger is extremely serious," the scientists said, stressing the importance of guarding against such diversion.

The finding was made public when the United Nations released a 22-page report adopted unanimously Thursday by the scientists, who make up the commission's scientific and technical committee. The report will be submitted to the commission's committee No. 2 (political) at a meeting next Wednesday.

The atomic commission is composed of the United Kingdom, United States, Russia, France, China, Egypt, Australia, Poland, Mexico, Brazil, The Netherlands and Canada.

The scientists, who acknowledged they dealt with non-secret and previously-published information, said in approaching the assignment they kept in mind the problem was not solely what to do about atomic energy as a weapon "but rather the entire problem of what use shall be made of a discovery so great that its consequences will affect the future of human society."

In the chapter on "Utilization of Nuclear Fuels," the report showed that large scale production of electric power from atomic energy appears feasible, though the scientists said it still is in the developmental stage.

Raw Materials Available

"Examples based on published information suggest that raw materials are readily available for the production of from 70 to 3,500 (atomic) bombs per year, or for the generation of electric power at a rate of 2,000,000 kilowatts and possibly many times this rate," the report added.

"The committee said "there is also the possibility that some day raw materials other than uranium and thorium might be found suitable for the production of nuclear fuel. Whatever the future may bring, those charged with responsibility for maintaining safeguards on atomic energy will best be able to make necessary adaptations in these safeguards if they are intimately associated with and participating in new developments in the entire field.

To Let Squatters Stay in Barracks

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Electric lights glowed Friday night in squatters' huts at Little Mountain barracks where the families of 13 war veterans took possession a week ago.

Electric power and water facilities, cut off last Saturday by Military authorities, were restored Friday by officials of the University of British Columbia, and plans made for regular milk and bread deliveries to the huts.

The huts have been transferred to the U. B. C. for housing student-veterans, and no effort will be made to dislodge the squatters.

It now is planned to convert a large building at the barracks into suites for the squatters, and meanwhile student-veterans will move into other huts.

FOUR SOLDIERS MISSING

VIENNA, (Reuters) Four British soldiers have failed to return to their units from patrol duty along the border between Yugoslavia and British zone of Austria within four weeks, British official sources announced Friday night. The statement said there was clear evidence that they had been taken into custody by the Yugoslavs.

Would Bar Slavs Unless Pact Signed

PARIS, (AP) A peace conference commission Saturday adopted an American proposal to bar Yugoslavia from the privileges of a signatory to the Italian treaty if she persisted in her announced refusal to sign the pact.

The Italian political and territorial commission adopted the "French line" as the boundary between Italy and Yugoslavia, and Marshal Tito's delegation promptly announced Yugoslavia would "not sign the peace treaty with Italy nor withdraw her army from northwestern Istria."

A Yugoslav proposal to turn the whole boundary question back to the foreign ministers was voted down, and the United States quickly proposed the new amendment stating that the terms of the treaty should "not benefit any state mentioned in the preamble as Allied and associated powers unless such state becomes a signatory of the treaty."

Yugoslavia has announced a claim of $1,300,000,000 reparations from Italy. Adoption of the American proposal, if upheld later by the plenary session and the foreign ministers' council, could bar the Yugoslavs from pressing this claim.

Russia and the Slavic countries voted solidly against the American amendment which was adopted 11 to 8. Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky assailed it as a "violation of the Big Four agreement" to support agreed portions of draft treaties.

Vancouver Mayor Huffy Over Robes

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Mayor Cornett Friday kept his vow—not to wear the official mayoral robes, and he may never wear them again.

Nattily dressed in a swallow-tail coat, striped trousers and wearing the gold chain of office, he greeted Lord Rowallan, leader of the Empire's Boy Scouts at city hall.

But the robes remained in the darkness of their closet.

Senator G. G. (Gerry) McGeer started all the fuss when he told a meeting of the Retail Credit Grantors' association that "out of my own pocket" he had paid more than $500 for the robes when he was mayor in 1936.

Mayor Cornett was huffed and after reporting to council an official investigation was ordered to establish, "Who paid for the robes?"

"It seems Senator McGeer was never paid for the robes," the mayor ruefully admitted.

Comptroller Frank Jones, ordered to investigate, reported there was no record of a purchase by the city.

Senator McGeer was sorry about it all.

"I'm sorry if his worship feels that he shouldn't wear my robes for the remainder of his term. My remarks were given in levity. It's a small point, anyway."

Another development came when Eric W. Hamber, former lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, offered to present the city with a new regalia.

"I heard of the controversy," said Mr. Hamber. "As a freeman of the city, I feel it is my privilege to present Mayor Cornett with new robes."

Plan Appointments Farm Prices Board

OTTAWA, (CP)—J. G. Taggart, chairman of the agricultural prices support board, said Friday night that when the board reached a "more active" phase of its operations it was likely two "permanent" members would be appointed to replace the senior agricultural department officials now serving.

The board had been established by parliament in July, 1944, when Agricultural Minister Gardiner announced appointment of A. M. Shaw, chief of the department's marketing service, and Dr. J. F. Booth, chief of the agricultural economics division. He said they would carry on until the board began to deal more directly with its problems.

The experienced departmental officials had been chosen for the board's initial organizing stages because of their wide knowledge of the field.

Last Wednesday, Mr. Gardiner invited the striking western farmers to present their views to the board for "consideration, analysis and presentation to the government."

NEWS about a NEW PLAN of SAVING created specially for you

● If you are one of the thousands of Canadians who started buying bonds in the very first Victory Loan, you certainly are lucky. Even if you bought bonds in only a few of the loans, you still are lucky. You have your bonds tucked away for a rainy day. You're getting extra income by cashing the coupons regularly.

With the war over, the question was whether or not Canadians still wanted to keep on buying bonds. To find the answer to this question, thousands of people all over the country were asked if they wanted to continue their wartime savings habit. Eight out of ten of those asked said they were anxious to keep on saving—by buying bonds.

In answer to this demand, Canada Savings Bonds will go on sale soon. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1000. The interest yield will be attractive. The bonds will be registered, providing protection against loss. They can be cashed at any time at full face value, with interest, at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Complete details will be announced in this paper on Monday. Watch for this announcement, and make plans now to buy the new Canada Savings Bonds.

8 out of 10 will buy again....

IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Alexander [illegible] who passed away September 28, 1943.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Ever remembered by Mother, Dad, sisters and brothers.

IN proud and loving memory of our dear son and brother F. O. Kent [illegible] who was killed in action September 29, 1943.

"Always in our heart."

Mother, Dad, Marguerite and [illegible].

IN loving memory of my dear husband, [illegible], who passed away [illegible] 1942.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
I little thought his death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The sorrow of parting without farewell.

Lovingly remembered by his wife Jean.

Hudson's Bay Trade Sets Retail Record

LONDON (CP)—Higher purchasing power in the hands of the Canadian public and "a consequent increase in the effective demand for consumer good" has "greatly benefited the Hudsons Bay Company, it was reported at the 271th annual general court of "the governor and company of adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay."

Sir Patrick Ashley Cooper, governor, presided at the meeting.

The retail stores department broke all previous records for sales and profits, but in the fur trade department "although satisfactory, [illegible] quantities of pelts purchased showed a considerable decrease.

The report said that provisions had been made for expenditure on renewals and repairs to the Mackenzie River Transport department which had been deferred by the war.

Stockyard receipts: cattle 795, calves 81, hogs 392, sheep 93.

There was just fair action, on the cattle market throughout the past week, with local buyers very indifferent about purchasing at present price levels, this resulted in a decline of 50 cents per cwt. on all classes. Receipts were very light in the forepart of the week, but increased later and several carloads were held over. The high for the week was 12.85 per cwt. paid for one small lot of choice steers, the majority being 12.75 per cwt. A few butcher heifers topped at 12.00 per cwt. with the general run trading from 11.00 down. The cow market also declined and at the close of trading choice cows were from 9.00 to 9.50 per cwt. and good cows 8.00 to 8.75 per cwt. Bulls were from 8.00 to 9.50 per cwt.

Stockers and feeders of suitable quality for sale, were in good demand. Choice steers 10.00 to 10.50, good steers 9.00 to 10.00, common to fair steers 8.00 to 8.75, stock heifers 7.00 to 9.50, stock cows 5.50 to 8.00 per cwt.

Veal calves steady. Good to choice handyweights 12.00 to 13.00, heavy and common kinds 11.50 down.

Hogs steady. Grade A, for shipping, 24.75 to 25.00, deep weights and liveweight on yards 15.00 per cwt., dressed 17.75. Freezers 16.00 to 17.00 were held over. Why Grow Old?

Ann Miller demonstrates the proper exercise for that unwieldy middle portion.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

At the end of the summer many a lady moans gently to herself, and sometimes even aloud, as she tries to squeeze herself into last year's models. Many of us let down in the hot weather, discontour figure molding exercises for less regular indulgence in outdoor life, and thus pick up five or ten unwanted pounds.

In the past it was unpleasant to find that we could not wear a favorite sleek gown of last year. Now it is near tragic with the price of clothing rising. Ladies this year may not content themselves with gentle moaning but may scream and tear their hair. I couldn't blame them, but "Why Grow Old?" is here to help and there is no need for such behaviour.

THERE ARE METHODS more effective than screaming! For instance, you might put on shorts, lie down on the floor and take a few well selected exercises for your particular difficulty. Often the unwanted pounds land diabolically on the waistline and then leer from little pads of fat on the upper hips, just below the waist. If this is true in your case you can get quick revenge.

Lie on the floor on your back, preferably without benefit of rug. Let your arms rest on the floor, extended straight out from the shoulders. Palms are on the floor, fingers cling to the floor. Bend both knees up. Keep the knees bent as you roll from side to side. Slap the thighs on the floor as you roll over on each side.

THIS EXERCISE gives the waist a fine twist if you keep your hands on the floor and will aid in overcoming fatty deposits on the upper back hips.

The following exercise is another antidote for the pads of fat on the upper hips. Stand tall with your feet comfortably apart. Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height. Bend over to the left, trying to touch the left hand to the floor. As you do so raise right arm up by the ear and hold it there, raise the trunk and return arms to sideward, shoulder height position. This time bend over to the right, trying to touch your right hand to the floor. As you bend raise the left arm up by the left ear and hold it there. Continue, alternating left and right.

WHEN DOING THIS exercise it is important to remember to hold the opposite arm against the ear, even if you cannot go all the way down to the floor—knees stiff and arms by your ear are the watchwords.

If you wish to have my tested exercises which will take inches from your hipline in a few weeks' time send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Dorothy Dix Says

Now that Johnny has come marching home he has brought with him a problem that neither he nor the Missus nor the girl he left behind him foresaw, and to which no one knows the answer.

But it has upset the apple-cart, for Johnny is finding out that home, sweet home is not the Elysium that he envisioned in his nostalgic dreams in a fox-hole in a far away country. Seen in reality it is a shabby shack in need of paint, and even Ma's cooking doesn't taste the way he remembered it.

AND, ON their part, the women are equally disillusioned. Johnny didn't come home clothed in shining armor and with the romantic technique of a cinema great lover. He shed a lot of his good looks when he took off his uniform and in civilian clothes he looks just like every other everyday man, and acts the same way.

He is glad to be back home again, but he expects his wife to take it for granted. He doesn't go into any ecstasies over the baby and he is bored with home details and wants to spend his time with his buddies. He is hard to get along with and his wife finds it hard to take him. So we have the rush of married couples to the divorce courts, and the crash of wrecked homes and the wail of fatherless babies fills the air.

AMONG the casualties of war none are sadder than these broken marriages and engagements, that are the result of absence and separation and growth of character, and for which no one is to blame. Many a wife would rather her husband had been killed on the battlefield than lost to her through the change in himself.

So Johnny's coming home is not all fireworks and brass bands and the joy of being enfolded in welcoming arms.

A lot of it is the bitter realization by both men and women that they have changed; that the old appeal is gone, the old love dead, and that they must either sacrifice themselves, or hurt the one for whom they have only tenderness and pity. And that is one of the greatest tragedies that war brings.

Elizabeth Woodward Says —

ELIZABETH WOODWARD says

Occasionally you wear a dress. But not often. It's only on state occasions and when company's coming for dinner. The rest of the time you romp round in dungarees and your hair in braids. And the greatest concession you'll make to spit and polish is to wash your face and hands, and change the bows on your pigtails.

You're with the boys all the time. They couldn't get along without you somehow. They need a third baseman . . . and they yell for you. They need another strong back and a pair of willing hands to help lug the boat out of the water . . . and they hail you. There's a job of white-washing to be done . . . and you wield a brush. So you're elected, You're just one of the boys.

BUT OF A SUDDEN to you the boys are wonderful. Over night you've been bitten by glamor. You wish those same boys would kiss your hand . . . instead of slapping you on the back.

Those boys know you very well indeed . . . but they aren't conscious of these new promptings of your soul. They include you in their work and roughhouse . . . but they never ask you for a date. They tell you about their woes with their women . . . but they don't even know you have a heart. Well, its up to you to show them you're different now. And you had better start on the outside of you.

Those blue jeans. Hide them. Put them away in the back of the closet and drag them out for Saturday mornings when you are at home washing the dog. Don't be seen with them in public. And those braids. Brush out your hair, pin it up soft and fluffy . . . make it a frame for your face. And highlight your mouth with lipstick. Take the shine off your nose. Park away the funny faces, the smirks, the raucous guffaws. Tone down your voice, pull in the edges of your laugh. Go in for soft, pretty colors in your sweaters and frocks. And get off the ground with medium heels. You can do all this over night. Your new appearance will stun those boys into looking at you twice.

PLAY BASEBALL on occasion . . . but don't be the best man on the team. Let the boys make the home runs and heave long throws. Let them hoist their own boats. Let them win the bike races . . . and carry the heaviest loads of firewood. Let them see that you not only look different, you really are different. You're not nearly the man you used to be.

Stop teasing and joking and giving back as good as you get. Don't listen too sympathetically when they load you up with their girl troubles. Spill a few of your own date problems . . . even if you have to make your men up. Then have a fancy party or two . . . and parade your best dating behavior. The boys will go right on treating you as one of the boys . . . until they're convinced that you just aren't playing that way any more!

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

There is no question, because I hear it too often, but what all babies do not take kindly to coarse foods. They are so used to the smooth ones they have been given from infancy that they remain faithful to them. When a coarse particle of food gets into their mouths they pick it out as if it were something other than food or else they choke on it and spit it out.

This is aggravating to the parent who feels that at one year, or thereabouts, the baby ought to graduate to eating foods that are chopped or ground or mashed.

It seems easier to prevent the distaste developing than to deal with it once the baby has become fixed in his liking for only smooth, strained foods. So as early as six to nine months you may introduce foods that will have a different texture than the ones to which he has become accustomed.

Mash a little of the home-cooked vegetable and add it to the strained one the baby is being served. Increase the mashed vegetable gradually until the baby is accepting it alone without the strained vegetable. Coarse type vegetables can be procured in cans the same as the sieved ones and for a time they may prove slightly more laxative than the strained ones.

If baby eats and likes mashed potatoes, some of the coarser vegetables may be added to these and he will not object to the particles included with them.

You may add browned bread or cracker crumbs to his strained vegetable or a sprinkle of hard-cooked, finely chopped egg.

Most babies love meat and this may be had finely or coarsely ground in cans or it may be brought into combinations of different meats and vegetables. These are delightful and the mother should try tasting them to determine which brand she herself finds most pleasing to the taste.

Once the child has become set in his determination to eat only the smooth foods the same tactics as suggested will have to be used with him. There is no use haranguing him. He doesn't know why he doesn't like coarse foods. If he is well and healthy and he gets the foods he likes best he will not struggle too long against accepting them in a different form. Not if the mother is tactful when she serves them.

Our leaflet No. 26 "Diet From One to Two Years," offers lists of vegetables, fruits and so forth, which the baby may now have in the diet. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Their bidding may vary from ours, but they are right on their toes on dummy play and defense.

The first play was the four of clubs. East won with the queen, then cashed the jack of clubs and led the ten of spades.

If West had not trumped the jack of spades, he would have been forced to trump the club at trick 11 and then lead into declarer's ace-ten of diamonds. But now declarer could not prevent West from making the jack of diamonds and setting the contract.

THAT GINKY

THE Teenie Weenies haven't seen Ginky for weeks. He became mighty angry at the little folk when they refused to take a stolen strawberry he brought to them. He left in a great huff and he hasn't been around the Teenie Weenie village since except to raid the Teenie Weenie garbage thimble a few times in the middle of the night. The little folk are just as glad that he doesn't come around, for he usually makes trouble.

The mouse is light pawed, too, and everything has to be locked up tight or things turn up missing in the morning. Ginky's absence had made the little people careless, and one night they forgot to lock the Teenie Weenie workshop, in which several peanuts were stored. They had found the nuts in a bag where some big people had been picknicking. It was a lucky find, for the Teenie Weenies were almost out of cooking oil. When the little men carried the nuts to the workshop they walked right under a bush in which the scheming Ginky had hidden himself to watch them with his beady little eyes.

When the men had passed, Ginky jumped out of the bush and followed the Teenie Weenies to the workshop. Hidden behind some leaves, he watched them put the nuts in the shop. The next morning the very last nut was gone. There were 11 of them and that would have made enough oil to supply the cook's needs for some time. The Teenie Weenies were furious, especially the Dunce, who was counting on Teenie Weenie doughnuts.

The Dunce found mouse tracks near the workshop. They were Ginky's tracks, too, and he carefully followed the trail into some thick bushes. After a long, patient hunt he finally found the nuts carefully covered with leaves. Two of the nuts had been eaten, for he discovered the empty shells nearby. The Dunce raced back to the shoe house to report that he had found nine of the precious peanuts. After the Teenie Weenie men had carried the nuts back to the workshop they locked the door.

"I'd better get the oil out of those peanuts before that mouse gets hold of them again," said the Old Soldier with a wooden leg, who is an expert in making cooking oil.

The Old Soldier set to work and when he had finished with the nine nuts, he had almost filled a pecan shell full of fine cooking oil. That night the Teenie Weenies had doughnuts for supper and the Dunce, for once, had his fill. Ginky hasn't been seen since and he'd better not show up, for Teenie Weenies do not like thieves.
